DEDICATION

CHARLES J. MONAN

Principal

APPOINTED SEPTEMBER, 1947

We, the graduating class of 1948, proudly dedicate this issue of the "Compass" to Mr. Charles J. Monan, our new principal. Through his influence, Kensingtonians have brought victory and honor to our school and have upheld high standards which our scholastic posterity will find difficult to excel. Every student at Kensington indeed appreciates his abundant kindness and his willingness to extend a helping hand to one and all, as well as his keen participation and contagious enthusiasm in all school activities. These have guided us to an even more prominent position among Buffalo high schools than we previously held and have made Kensington known throughout the nation. Kensington has become the envy of all high schools. Without the support of Mr. Monan, the pages of this book would not be filled with the glory of our recent achievements.

FOREWORD

In this Compass, we are presenting "a record of the mind and the life of a student at Kensington."

With the aid of modern symbolic design, pictures, and words, our book records thoughts in a bewildering variety; thoughts of work, of recreation, and of entertainment. We show images of our friends, our faculty, and our school. We reveal an ear for music . . . an eye for art . . . a mind and heart open for understanding . . . a consciousness of the passing of time and of our wide range of choice. We suggest noble qualities . . . honesty, liberty, and restraint; truth, freedom, and perfection; self-reliance and self-respect.

We have attempted to give an impression of an abstract idea—an idea slightly mystical, like a dream, full of our ideals, our aspirations, and our plans.

To a swell girl and I hope you have lots of luck in the future

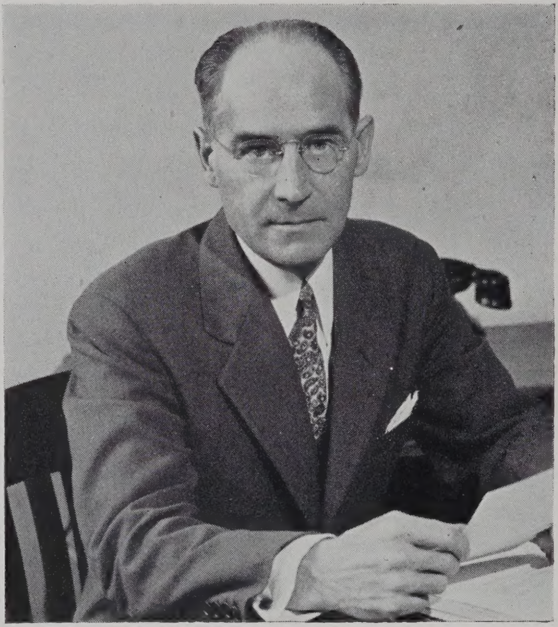
IN MEMORIAM



With the death of Mr. Thomas J. McDonnell during the past summer, we Kensingtonians indeed suffered a great loss.

From 1937 to 1947, Mr. McDonnell was the able principal of Kensington High School. He led Kensington up the road of success with his abundant school spirit, his strong leadership, and his kindly interest in all school activities. His devotion to duty, his broad charity, his deep sympathy, and his spontaneous humaneness were among his high ideals which motivated many of the activities which have become traditional at Kensington.

In Memoriam, let us keep alive the personality of Mr. McDonnell by making these standards evident in our lives and minds.

War Memorial

One of Mr. McDonnell's last interests at Kensington was the planning of the War Memorial which was completed this year. Designed in black marble with a bronze plaque, this Memorial has been erected in the entrance hall at Kensington in honor of the thirty-eight boys who gave their lives in World War II. The name of Lieutenant Gerald C. Gravius, who died in a crash of Navy planes in the fall of 1947, does not appear on the plaque. Lieutenant Gravius graduated with the class of 1942 and was an Associate Editor of the Compass.

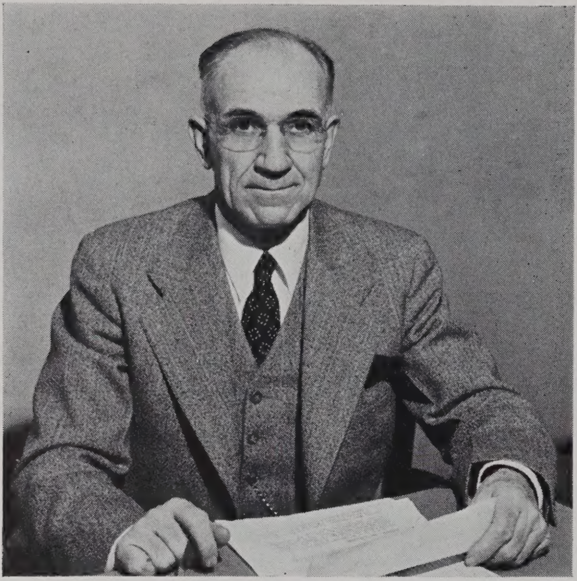
As we pass this Memorial in our daily routine, may we have always in our hearts a prayer of gratitude to the memory of these boys whose bravery and devotion to our country made it possible for us to live in peace.

ADMINISTRATION

Our administration is one of the highlights in the record of life at Kensington. We see Mr. Monan, beaming with pleasure at our many achievements; Mr. Chassin, striving to improve our attendance records; Miss Kammerer, working diligently to meet the printer's deadline; and our respective teachers, patiently attempting to prepare us for exams. Assisting us in our troubles and indecisions, rejoicing with us in our joys, the faculty will always constitute a vital part of our high school memories.

NANCY BEENAU

A record of good administration: of those who plan wisely for us, guide our activities, encourage our efforts and applaud our successes; who help us to develop self-reliance and a sense of responsibility, thus preparing us for our place in the contemporary world.



ADMINISTRATION AND FACULTY

JOHN N. CHASSIN
Assistant Principal

The office is truly the focal point in the lives of Kensington students. All day long, Miss Kammerer, Miss Natale, and Miss Edwards answer our questions, listen to our messages, record our marks, and hand us the lunches we forgot to bring from home. From the office come the bulletins we listen to at roll call: "There will be an assembly tomorrow . . ." Here the bells ring that govern our daily routine; here is the source of "admit" slips and assignments to classes; here, too, in all those filing cabinets, is the record of who we are and what we have done at Kensington.

An integral part of our life at Kensington is Mr. Chassin, our capable assistant principal. Among his many duties, he works with us to achieve our fine attendance record. Whether we see him in his office, talking over our problems with us, or in the cafeteria supervising the lunch hours, or enthusiastically cheering our teams to victory, his interest in us and our welfare and his loyal support of all our activities are always evident. They are part of our present and will be well-remembered when we, too, have joined the alumni, for whom Mr. Chassin is now serving as faculty sponsor.

GUIDANCE PROGRAM

The present guidance program at Kensington was introduced at the beginning of the school year in September, 1947. The conference room was designated as the guidance office, and the three counsellors immediately set in motion plans for this newly organized service.

They visited the various study rooms to explain the program to the pupils, inviting them to drop in for a friendly interview to discuss their plans, interests and problems. At an early faculty meeting, the program was also presented to the teachers, who received the plan enthusiastically.

Then the counsellors began a series of private interviews with the freshmen, with whom the bulk of the guidance work was to be done during the first year, giving information and helping them to adjust themselves to high school life.

As soon as the first marking period was over, the guidance department added to its program the interviewing of pupils who had failed two or more subjects, in an attempt to discover the cause, and effect improvement.

In the meantime, the counsellors were also busy collecting material for an occupational file of pamphlets, books and other literature to assist the pupils in their efforts at career planning. For those interested in attending colleges and special schools after graduation, a large number of college catalogs and school brochures were made available. These have proved very

CAREER DAY

On April 16, 1948, the Guidance Department sponsored a Career Day for Juniors and Seniors. The program, with Mr. Monan as chairman, was designed to assist upperclass students who must soon choose the profession or occupation they wish to follow.

Students saw a very informative film entitled "Finding Your Life Work" and heard four guest speakers, each representing a different field. Dr. Joseph P. O'Brien, Gastroenterologist of the Roswell Park Memorial Hospital, spoke on the professions. Industry was represented by Mr. Richard L. Slosson, Employment Super-

SCIENCE

Seated: T. Mountain; I. Eardman.

Standing: H. Albing, J. Hallahan, A. Alaimo, L. Landsman, E. Davison, L. Haynes, A. Gianturco, G. Heacock.

ART: Ethel M. Davis, Raymond Fisher

SCIENCE: As Freshmen, we all study a basic course in General Science. Some of us elect to delve deeper into the mysteries of gravity and osmosis, to spend our time amid the test tubes and formulae. We are all aware of the vital part that science plays in our lives today.

HOME ECONOMICS: Patterns and colors and fabrics and styles absorb the attention of the girls in sewing classes. They learn what to wear and how to make it; lessons that will be of great value whatever their future careers may be.

FINE ARTS: Our artists are among the busiest students at Kensington. In addition to the many drawings and designs required by their courses, their days are filled with the posters and signs and assembly decorations that are such a colorful part of life at Ken.

HOME ECONOMICS

Anne Connors

MATHEMATICS
Seated: V. Mayer, M. Steudle, M. Misercola, A. Creahan.
Standing: G. Druar, A. Connors, M. Larrabee, M. McGee, N. Hayes.

MATHEMATICS: No guessing in these courses! No debating, no imagination permitted! Two plus two forever equals four and you might as well agree. These are the courses that teach our minds to think clearly and reason logically; training that can be profitably applied to many problems in our everyday lives.

HOME ECONOMICS: Whether it's hamburgers or Hollandaise sauce, you have to know how! Ken girls in the Home Economics course learn all about foods and serving meals and preparing menus. They also study household management and child care, courses essential for our future homemakers.

Mr. Pinkow and Miss Townsend

MUSIC: Some like it popular, some like it classic; but all Ken students learn to know and enjoy good music. Happy are the days when the band or orchestra or A Cappella Choir entertain us in the assembly; and happy are our music majors in their world of scales and rhythm and harmony.

ENGLISH

Seated: J. Manch, A. Maloney, I. Johnson, M. Belknap, A. Scanlon, J. Johns.

Standing: M. Kennedy, L. Belden, H. Evans, L. Strickland, D. Flierl, M. Frink, R. Culliton, M. L. Nice, M. Stewart.

Absent: R. Newman.

ENGLISH: From the Odyssey to Hamlet, from parts of speech to parliamentary law, English is part of our daily life. For four years we struggle with double negatives and split infinitives, we progress from simple sentences to essays— and, ultimately, we acquire the ability to speak with reasonable correctness and to appreciate our great literature.

COMMERCIAL: Great is the demand for the services of our commercial students. Assembly songs to be mimeographed, letters to be written, Honor Rolls to be typed, envelopes to be addressed, alphabetizers wanted in the office . . . they have indeed an active role in the life of the school and benefit greatly from these opportunities for practical experience.

COMMERCIAL

Seated: G. Steffan, C. Panzica, J. Meegan, E. Fink, A. Foss, S. Kauffman.

Standing: R. Jacobs, F. Lehde, J. Reilly, D. Coveney, M. Ruby.

Standing: G. McMahon, E. Stokoe, R. Finnegan, V. Walker, T. McCarthy, W. White, J. Demerly.
Absent: C. Keefe.

SOCIAL SCIENCE: In these classes we learn how our own land grew and prospered, we learn the history of other countries, we discuss statesmen of the past—their wisdom and their errors. We, who have already known one great war, should try to learn from these lessons how we can prevent future world conflicts.

LANGUAGES: By studying French accents, Spanish vocabulary, Latin grammar, and Greek verbs, we are not only acquiring knowledge which will be helpful to us in our future vocations, but we are also attaining a greater understanding of foreign people, their customs, their traditions and their ideals.

LANGUAGES

Seated: R. Westerman, H. Tewksbury, H. Gleason, L. Dunlavey.

PHYSICAL and HEALTH EDUCATION

Kick . . . 1, 2, 3, 4, . . . the bell rings . . . the class is over . . . into the showers. Under the capable guidance of our physical education instructors, both in swimming and in gym, we learn to develop sound bodies and minds. Health Education also strengthens us by teaching proper use and care of our bodies.

CLINIC

The Compass pictures amuse Mr. Demerly, Mr. White, Miss Kammerer and Mr. Finnegan.

LIBRARY: This is the focal point of knowledge at Kensington, a reference room for teachers and students alike. Here we come with our numerous questions, assignments and reading lists to ask Miss Lane's help in our search for information.

VERA LANE, Librarian

INDUSTRIAL ARTS: Hammers banging, machinery roaring, boys moving to and fro . . . it may seem like turmoil and confusion, but actually it is a scene of order and carefully planned work. Under the guidance of Mr. John McMahon, Ken boys learn how to transform crude materials into many useful articles. They develop skills which will serve them well in the future.

FACULTY NOTES

In September, the following teachers joined the faculty: in science, Mr. Alaimo and Mr. Gianturco; mathematics, Mr. Hayes; art, Mr. Fisher; commercial, Mrs. Ruby; English, Miss Nice and Mr. Manch; social science, Mr. Demerly and Mr. George McMahon; physical education, Miss Gallagher. Miss Felser returned to teach girls' swimming. Versatile teachers were Miss Misercola who taught English and mathematics; Mr. Finnegan, Latin and history; Mr. White, history and business subjects. In January, Miss Coveney transferred from the office to the commercial department.

All these teachers entered whole-heartedly into the life and spirit of our school and generously gave much of their time to promote extra-curricular activities.

SENIORS

We as Seniors are sorry to leave behind the good times and the joys of life at Ken. During our four years here, we have come to appreciate the advantage of being a high school student. However, we are proud that we leave behind us a fine record . . . a record of success in many fields. We, the class of 1948, as we leave Kensington, hope that this record is but a preview of what the future holds.

SENIOR OFFICERS

ARTHUR NEHRBASS
President

"Art" is a very versatile fellow, for he is not only an enthusiastic orator, but a convincing magician and an actor as well. His charming personality and cheerful disposition have won him our admiration and friendship. Incidentally, he enjoys nothing more than Miss Steudle's Eleventh Year Math Class.

CAROL STEVE
Vice-President

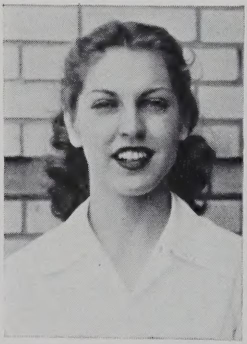
Carol, one of the finest dancers ever to grace the portals of Kensington, is also a sports enthusiast, enjoying volleyball, tennis, and swimming. Her amicable personality and ready smile have won her many friends. As proof of her popularity, we only need to know that she has been twice elected an officer.

JOAN MANN
Secretary

Vivacious Joan has won a name for herself at Ken through her hilarious performances in the skits by the Public Speaking Classes. Off the stage, her interests are more serious, for she especially likes Rachmaninoff and history. However, she admits that "hot" music really "sends" her.

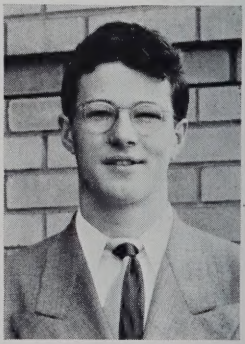
BERNELL DOWSE
Treasurer

"Bernie's" determination and persistence, make him a good choice to fill the post of class treasurer. When not wrestling dues from the senior boys, his favorite pastime is spending hours at his "solid" homework. His greatest weaknesses are short blondes, Cliff Otis, and Mr. Gianturco's fourth hour chemistry class.



GLORIA WIETIG
Girls' Marshal

Gloria's sparkling personality and ready smile have made her very popular around Ken. Journalism and dramatics are her favorite fields—that is, when she is not busy outlining history for Miss Dickman. An honor student, Gloria is strangely attracted to third year law students at the University of Buffalo.



JOHN STENGER
Boys' Marshal

On the football field or in the class room, "Johnny" rates high with us. Although he is an honor student, he confesses that history holds no joy for him. Drinking coffee, ice skating, and loafing occupy some of his spare time. Miss Belden's assignments take up the rest.

TO THE SENIORS:

Another year has rolled round and busy preparations on all sides point to commencement day as a crowning event of the school year. For many it will prove the eventful day in their lives since it marks the commencement of their careers as citizens in a world that is calling for the best that an honest, upright, and worthy citizenship can produce.

In bidding God-speed to the hundreds of boys and girls who have completed their preparation at Kensington High School I am embodying in that wish the sincere hope that a spirit of fair-play in all life's dealings, a keen sense of loyalty to the highest ideals, and the badge of personal uprightness will continue to distinguish them in the future as it has so strongly characterized them during their high school years.

The recollection of one's high school days forms one of the pleasantest of memories and who is there that would not gladly relive them? While no man can recapture his youth yet it is given to every man so to frame his life that the lofty ideals of his youth will, through his faithful adherence to them, become for him the sure inspiration of his future success and happiness.

Your Alma Mater is justifiably proud of her graduating class of 1948. The hopes of the entire faculty accompany you and together with the citizens of this community they congratulate you and rejoice with you and with your parents in your happiness. That you will unfailingly measure up to the fair promise of your high school years is the confident wish of

ALMA MATER SONG

Kensington thy sons and daughters hail thee.
To Green and Gold our hearts be ever true.
May honor ever guard thy open portals,
Thy wisdom's torch shine on and light our way.
Let voices raise to sing thy praise.
Oh, Alma Mater always dear,
With courage strong to thee
We pledge allegiance,
And onward strive for Kensington.

CLASS

This Kensington diary, written for the enlightenment of future generations, is the eye-witness account of the invasion of Ken High by the Class of '48. The narrative begins at school several days after the "frosh" stormed this important base of education.

October, 1944: Although our occupation of Kensington began a month late, we arrived bursting with enthusiasm to make the most of our conquest. Bewildered at first, we soon learned to imitate the sophisticated upper-classmen and it was even said that Chuck Schwender carried an Ancient History book so no one would think him a mere Freshmen.

Our first important event was the Freshman girls' Hallowe'en party (no men allowed.) Everyone had a wonderful time, devouring tons of cake and gallons of cider and being entertained by Carol Steve, Hildegard Tenbult, and Carol Ludwig.

November: For their first creative effort, the prodigies of 406 presented "Thanksgiving with the Best Family." Jackie and Elisabeth Moore were very convincing as twins, while Ruthie Bayard was certainly a feminine counterpart of Red Skelton's "mean widle kid."

Not to be outdone by the girls, the Freshman boys worked hard on the football field to help win fourth place for Kensington in the Harvard Cup League. Bob Donohue became our first major letter winner, thus bringing glory to the Freshmen.

December: For the first time we witnessed Kensington's traditional and very beautiful Christmas Pageant which etched a lasting picture on our memories. Among the Freshmen taking part were Sue Jones, Alice Quigley, Elaine Looze, and Guy Hopkins.

March, 1945: This was truly a month of recognition for the Freshmen, for our own Chuck Baldwin not only won his major letter and made the All-High team, but also was acclaimed a sensational new swimmer by the sports reporters!

Next came our festive St. Patrick's Day program. Outstanding in this were Cliff O'Waugh, Max O'Hering, and Richard O'Howell.

May: On this month's calendar came Kensington's own Minstrel Show, "Rhapsody in Black." Among the hilarious characters one was the never-to-be-forgotten and particularly gruesome gold fish eater. The "gold fish" seemed very much alive and squirming and many of us gasped with horror. Our own personal pride in this production was Shirley Walter, whose xylophone playing was definitely "terrific."

June: As the year drew to a close, we learned with pride that George Massman and Jack Martinke of 306 had sold $22,850 in War Bonds.

After a great deal of cramming, we managed to glide through our examinations with Joanne Hanna emerging as winner of the Freshman Attainment Medal.

September, 1945: After a pleasant vacation, we returned eager to assume our new roles as sophomores, tormentors of the poor freshmen. Immediately, we adopted the customs of the upperclassmen such as leaving lockers open, copying our homework, skipping second roll call, and forging library slips.

October-November: Complying with the demands of our teachers, we settled down to our dreary round. However, the fall sports soon absorbed a fair share of our time and attention. Vince

HISTORY

DiLallo and Bob Zemke helped bring the Columbia Cup to Ken while on the gridiron Bob Donohue, Bob Wilde, Frannie Kareken, and Bob Loftus showed what power really is.

December: At about this time, various clubs were inaugurated in which the "Sophisticated Sophs" eagerly participated. Henry Haber became Vice-president of the German Club; Guy (Hopalong) Hopkins distinguished himself in the Riding Club and Richard Williams survived the Slide Rule Club. For the first time, the Compass staff took on "cub" reporters among whom were Joan Gracie, Chester Owczarzak, and Robert Dombrowski.

January-February, 1946: Adequately defended by our painfully acquired knowledge, we met our foes, the midterm exams, made them ours, and again looked to the lighter side of school. With the aid of Bob Gsell, Roy Stuhlmiller, John Golden, and Chuck (the fish) Baldwin, a successful swimming season closed with Chuck attaining All-High honors.

March-April: Sure and will anyone ever forget our annual St. Patrick's Day assembly with Alice Francis, Janice Eggert, and Bessie Chambos dancing a merry Irish Jig?

Spring sports soon claimed attention as Art Mamott, Vince DiLallo, and Fred Urso proved that it could be done when they brought another Scalp and Blade trophy to Kensington.

Leo Pacanowski, "Dixie" Lash, and Bob Wilde displayed power both at bat and in the field as our baseball team completed its season with another Cornell Cup practically in the trophy case.

May: And remember this? "Hear ye! Hear ye! Come one, come all, to the gala Gay Nineties review!" shouted Cliff (the barker) Otis as Don (the barber) Nichols crooned and Art (the lover) Nehrbass whispered sweet nothings to Molly Malone.

June: All too soon came June, the month that everyone seemed to dread. Why? Exams, of course! ! Feverishly, we crammed to make the grade, with Joanne Hanna winning her second attainment medal. As we left for vacation, the teachers sighed in deep relief, at the same time grimly anticipating our return as upperclassmen.

September, 1946: With a most arrogant and dignified air of superiority, we returned from our summer vacations, for we were, after all, upperclassmen now. Perfect examples of finesse and poise, we greeted our fellow classmates who, with equal graciousness, slid down the banisters to salute us.

October: The fall sports season opened successfully with Captain Vince DiLallo, supported by Bob Zemke and John Visone, leading our Cross Country team to victory. In football, Bob Wilde and Bob Donohue injected outstanding power into our "T" formation.

November-December: At our Thanksgiving Day assembly the A Cappella Choir presented a program of beautiful hymns which were both solemn and impressive.

Shall we ever forget how we just couldn't get enough of George Aberhorn's tender tenor voice as he sauntered down the halls singing, "Open the Door Richard!"

With the strains of the "Hallelujah Chorus" echoing through the corridors every morning, we became aware that the Christmas season was approaching. Of course, high above the rest of the chorus for the traditional pageant, we could detect the mellow voices of Audrey Krull, Sue Jones, and Don Nichols.

BEVERLY SOLBERG

June 28, 1948

We, the members of the class of 1948, are filled tonight with a joy of accomplishment—a joy that stems from the satisfaction of a job well done. Our happiness, however, is not an unmixed emotion for tonight we are bidding a last farewell to our Alma Mater.

To the teachers, who have been both an inspiration and incentive to us, we wish to express our heartiest gratitude. We thank them for their fine examples of citizenship and selfless service.

We extend our heartfelt thanks to Mr. Monan, who in the short space of ten months, has won a firm place in our affections, and who by his fine leadership and example has made this one of Kensington's most successful years.

To Mr. Chassin, whose sympathetic advice and counsel has for many years molded better men and women, we express our deepest gratitude.

We wish to express our sincere appreciation to our parents whose love and devotion have made possible this, our graduation night.

And let us not forget Mr. McDonnell, who though not physically present tonight, is with us in spirit. His memorial is not only the high school that he organized but the thousands of boys and girls whose high ideals he formed during the ten years he was principal of Kensington High School.

As we stand here tonight at the parting of the ways we look back over the four years spent at Kensington and our memories are flooded with the happy events that have marked those years. We call to mind many things, little things; things that being missed, will leave an emptiness in our lives. There is that all pervading school spirit so evident wherever Kensington students congregate and never more so than at interscholastic contests. There is that fine accord between teachers and students; and I need but refer to Junior and Senior Days as outstanding among other individual memories.

But, we must not linger overlong in reminiscing. Tonight is Commencement Night and the future lies before us. Many of us having completed our basic education will go on to college, others will take their place in the world of business.

Kensington has given us her best; she has prepared our way. The responsibilities of the adult must begin to weigh upon our shoulders. Our parents have carried the burden overlong. We are living in troubled times, when the world situation is dark indeed and the road to peace is blocked by many obstacles. It is true that we have been trained to be self-reliant but self-reliance shows forth best when it is mindful of those who are less fortunate.

In conclusion, let me bid a fond farewell to all those whom I have mentioned as most deserving of our heartfelt gratitude. In behalf of the class of 1948 I bid goodbye to all the boys and girls of Kensington who will move up to take our places and carry on the prized traditions of this school. In my own name I bid farewell to my fellow graduates and express a prayerful hope that a kind Providence will ever be with us in all our undertakings.

Arthur Nehrbass, Jr.

Freshmen and sophomores and juniors and such
Never know nothing, but seniors know much.
So we are here to bequeath them some knowledge,
To leave them some tricks that they won't learn in college.

Hallways and fountains, those places of fame,
Deprived of our presence, will not be the same.
Listen, you juniors, and note what we say,
And Kensington High School won't know we're away.

People who do things is what you will be,
Hey, Forty-Niners, you listen to me!

First: We bequeath to our successors, the faithful perpetuation of the sniper tactics used in snipping mirror strings, the ringside seats in assembly, the sixth hour marathon from 162 to the cafeteria, the surreptitious knitting in the "Beckies" study hall, and last but not least, our dilapidated textbooks to our Junior successors to be used only for opening their lockers.

Second: The seniors' ticket sale ability for financing Mr. Monan's "Expansion Programme" to the forthcoming "gold rush" of the Forty-Niners. This of course, to be aided upon every opportune occasion by the proper utilization of that potent pet phrase, "Let's go; we can do it!"

Third: If the above mentioned precedents are loyally supported by you, we begrudgingly renounce our claim to the following:

Ann Flick's collection of unpublished lyrics to Mr. Pinkow.
Leo Pacanowski's political aspiration to Dave Warsocki.
Joanne Hanna's Washington Guide Books to Carol Gallisdorfer.
Cliff Waugh's thousands of hours of "syncopating rhythm" to Robert Shanley.
Sue Jones' Irish brogue to Catherine McIntosh.
The laces from Vince DiLallo's track shoes to Vince Mascia.
Maureen Allen's seasonal parties and breakfasts for the football team to Sally Harmon.
Gloria Catuzzi's daily serial "My True Story" to "Jo" Boydo.
Jean Welch's perpetual punctuality to Pat Pawlak.

As we pass out, we pass these on:

"Nellie" Birtsch's brush cut to Rita Maraschiello.
Chuck Brunner's masterpieces to Charley Szafarczyk.
Bob Bump's tuba to Tom Meyers.
Lorene Zoloty's "Parisian" black stockings to Eleanor Wozniak.
"Colonel" Albing's repertoire of vitriolic remarks to the future custodians of 409's test tubes.
Jack Davern's Toni home wave to Jack Thompson.
Donald D. Dolan's alliterative name to Earl E. Ely.
"Cowboy" Graham's seat in Miss Heacock's Pontiac to Theresa Dinezza.
Free excursions on the "5th Floor Express" to Larry Brennan.
Max Hering's and Porter C. Schwender's extensive wardrobe to Betty Henning and Norma Olivieri.
Bob Markham's pursuit of the finer arts to Harold Meier.

After reloading our squirt guns and replenishing our bubble gum, we blithefully relinquish:

Art Nehrbass's oratorical skills to Jack Kasman.
Shirley Winfield's argyle socks to Madeline Onorato.
Eddie Rath's radio scripts to Merle Orchard.
The Three Musketeers' (Demerly, White and Finnegan) periodical revelation of boyhood tales to the "Whispering Walls."
Bob Wilde's football deception to Carl Meyer.
George Aberhorn's self-acclaimed title "God's gift to Women" to Peter Zanghi.
Carol Steve's personality plus to Barbara Wilde.

CLASSES

As you view this record of life at Kensington, you see the students from every angle . . . studying and relaxing at work and at play, in class and out. In the following pages you will see a complete record of the Classes . . . who they are, what they are like, the things they have accomplished, and what they hope to achieve.

VIRGINIA BERNACKI

A record of the classes: of who we are and how we look and what we have done; of the things that fill our days — books, problems, classes, homerooms, fun and friends. As our stature increases, so our minds develop, our interests broaden.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Seated: Augusta Schultz, John Thompson
Standing: Shirley Harrison, Jack McMinn

John Thompson, President

Jack Thompson, president, has won many friends at Ken because of his modest and unassuming ways. He participated in football and baseball and was a very active member of the basketball team this year. The "outdoor type," he enjoys camping and traveling. Besides participating in many sports, he maintains a good scholastic average.

Shirley Harrison, Secretary

Our smiling secretary has a care free attitude with which she has won many friends. Although she welcomes short periods, Miss Druar's math class holds her undivided attention.

Shirley would much rather spend a leisurely weekend eating steak with mushrooms and dancing to "Harlem Nocturne" than a rainy night pondering over a passage of Cicero.

Augusta Schultz, Vice-President

"Gussie" Schultz, our vice president, is a popular gal around Kensington. Not only does she rate high scholastically, but she also takes part in several after-school activities. In her spare time she practices her violin, and swoons to the music of Vaughn Monroe. She also confesses a liking for classical music.

Jack McMinn, Treasurer

1948's Junior Class Treasurer is that most genial gentleman, Jack McMinn. Jack is well known for his athletic prowess, having major letters in both tennis and basketball. American history is his favorite subject, but he admits that French accents are not for him. His taste in music varies, according to his mood.

Joan Toland, Girls' Marshal

Joan Toland, who has a smile for everyone, is well liked by all. She is an honor student but confesses that doing homework is not her favorite pastime, and wishes that her books were a bit lighter. Joan likes swimming and is interested in bowling, even though she doesn't always score a perfect three hundred.

Jack Kasman, Boys' Marshal

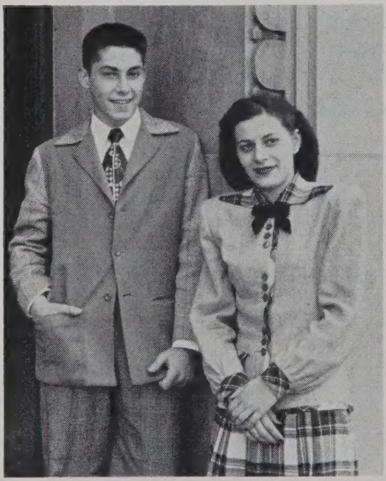
All our admiration and praise goes out to Jack not only for his excellent scholastic achievement but also for his winning personality. We find him an excellent speaker as well as a wizard with figures. Taking a second look we see that the brush cut is his favorite hair-do this season.



Jack Kasman, Joan Toland

LET'S GO! WE CAN DO IT!

Displayed on posters and repeated in assemblies, this slogan, Mr. Monan's motto, has now been adopted by the entire school. It truly represents the spirit which has prevailed at Kensington this year. Inspired by these words, we DID:

Win the Harvard Cup in football.

Have the largest sale of football tickets on record.

Break the national swimming record.

Hear this news carried from coast to coast on the "Inside of Sports", a Mutual Broadcasting Program.

Capture every place on the All-High Swimming Team.

Win the Syracuse Cup in swimming.

Win the Press Association yearbook trophy.

Win the Americanism Essay Contest.

Hear our A Cappella Choir sing St. Patrick's Day songs on WEBR and besides . . .

We DID have the best attendance record of all the academic high schools.

OUR ATTENDANCE RECORD

October	1st	97.09
November	2nd	95.79
December	1st	95.52
January	1st	94.22
February	1st	95.38
March	1st	94.99
April	1st	95.23

Only in November, when Riverside's percentage was a fraction of a point better than ours (95.93) did we fail to have the best attendance among the nine academic high schools.

THE FORTY–NINERS

ODE TO OURSELVES

Jolly and friendly, which none can deny,
Unique little Juniors cannot be called shy.
Naturally bright, they work all the harder
Inspired by Miss Steudle to study with ardor.
They're
Obedient and true, with a spirit prolific,
Respectful of others, but to be more specific
Supposing we modestly say "they're terrific"!

Joan Farrell and Carol Gallisdorfer

Busy Juniors were A Cappella singers Janet Abrams, Shirley Best, Carol Barratt and Joyce Kellerman. Betty Miller and Lucille Mikoll were Library Monitors and Dolores Breil was chosen "Miss Fire Prevention of 1947."

ROOM 262

Prominent in various activities were Margery Grotzka, Joan Donaldson, and June Neumann who participated in the St. Patrick's Day program. Marjorie Mueller, Shirley Brown and Ken's wellknown nightingale, Pearl Barger, were enthusiastic members of the A Cappella Choir. Joan Gassman, Ruth Kimmler and Pearl Barger acted as officers of the Latin, German, and French Clubs respectively. The newly-formed Cartoon Club found Arlene Gabalski representing 262.

Carol Gallisdorfer, who headed the Junior Honor Roll, and Joan Farrell held positions on the Compass Reporting Staff while Rosetta O'Brien and Martha Molnar worked on the Art Staff.

Joan Maestra and Shirley Goff were ardent tennis fans, while Betty Hennig and Diana Lavetti displayed aquatic abilities in the water show.

IN THE JUNIOR ROOMS

Room 266: Active in Ken's clubs were Nancy Stubbe, Consul of the Latin Club, and Sally Sturm, who was Vice-President of the Spanish Club.

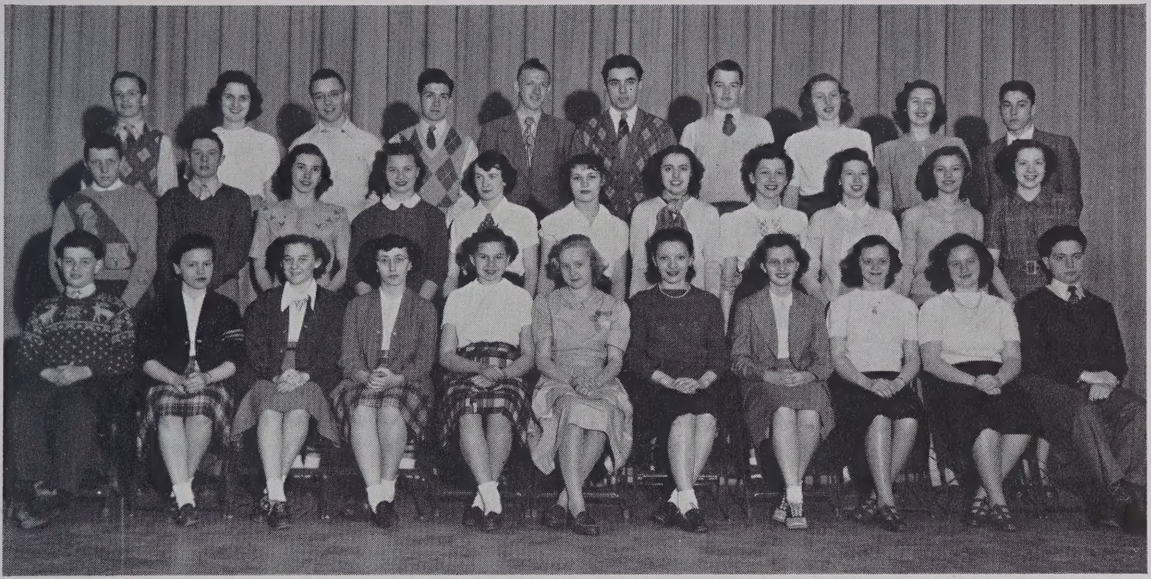
In the History Forum were Dolores Stakowski and Eleanor Wozniak. Lilah Walter took part in the Slide Rule Club.

In the field of sports, Dorothy Skarzynski joined the Equestri-Kens and Jean Sylves was on the Junior Girls' Volleyball team. Mary Ann Spangenberg was active in the Girls' Swimming Club, while Diane Yaw appeared in the water show.

Honor roll leaders from 266 were Joan Toland and Nancy Stubbe. Wilma Tessman worked on the Compass Art Staff. Shirley Simeister and Joan Schuck took part in the Easter assembly, while Lucille Rutkowski and Barbara Wilde danced in the St. Patrick's Day Program.

Room 159: Although in a room apart from their classmates, 159's eleven Juniors were too active to be forgotten. Cora Dechert, Elaine Berns, Cynthia Orbank and Dorothy Reichert played in the band and orchestra. Pat Butynski danced on St. Patrick's Day and Beverly Solberg sang in the A Cappella Choir. Catherine McIntosh and Marlene Jackson were Debate Team members. 159 is proud that six of the eleven girls were on all honor rolls.

Room 243: Shining scholars were Elaine Cantwell and Theresa Limardi. Patricia Lund was elected Room Representative with Elaine Cantwell and Betty Bates as assistants. They handled football ticket and Compass sales. Jackie Dilger's and Joyce Goodspeed's lovely voices were heard in the Christmas and Easter programs; also participating were Virginia Greinert, Ruth Morlock, and Mary Lou Laird. Doreen Sullivan was on the Gold Swimming Team.



HOME ROOM REPORTERS

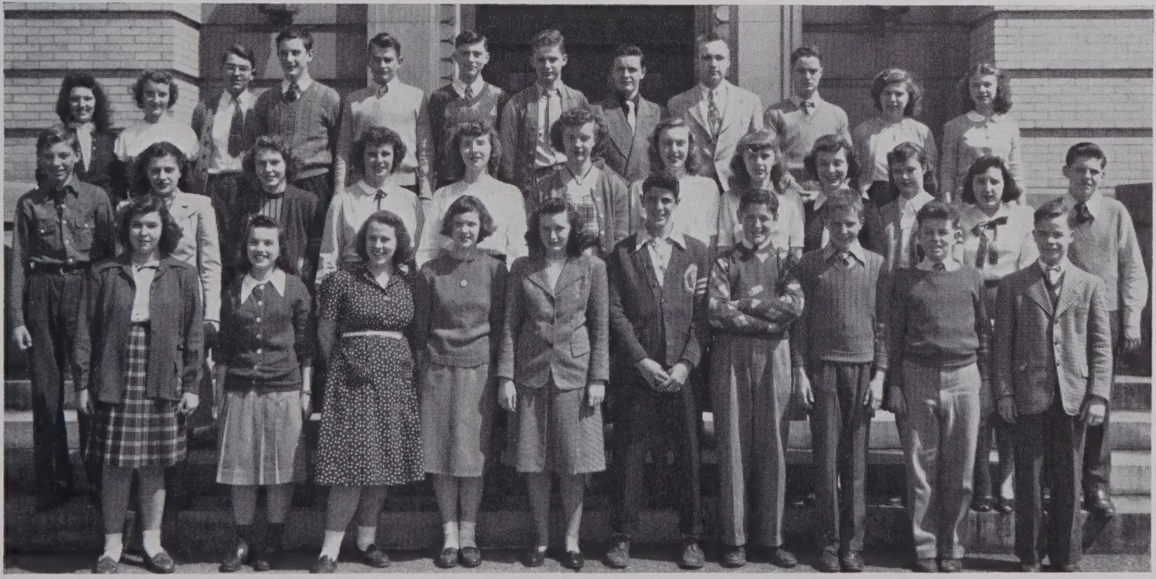
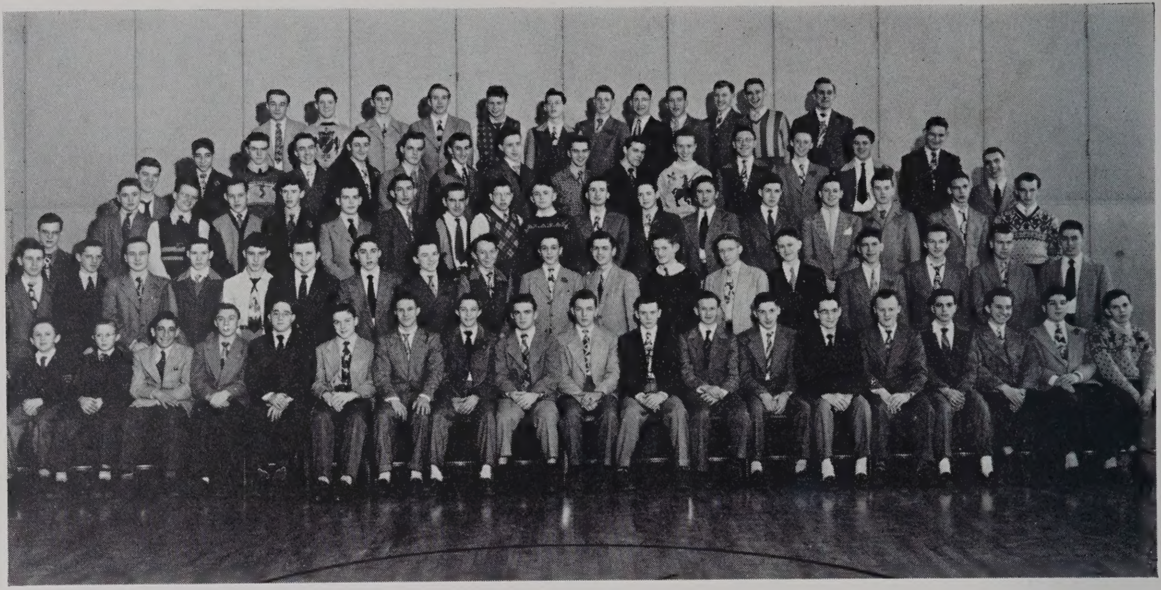
HOME ROOM REPORTERS

Again this year the home room reporters eagerly dashed about compiling information to represent their particular rooms in The Compass. Old ideas and new were employed to give the world a better view of the various activities being carried on. Other duties of the nimble news-coverers were identifying pictures and collecting the names of those students who engaged in any sports, clubs, or other school organizations.

COMPASS SALESMEN





JUNIORS—ROOM 206

THE IDEAL JUNIOR BOY

After intensive search, the Juniors have finally found the ingredients which would produce the Ideal Junior Boy. They are:

Scholastic Ability	GLENN RANDALL
Athletic Ability	ED CROMP
Muscular Physique	CHRIS FRAUENHOFER
Good Looks	ROY KOCH
Likeable Personality	JACK THOMPSON
Feminine Attraction	DICK KEENEY

KEN GOES ON WBEN—In December four boys from Ken—Robert Biers, Merle Orchard, Robert McClure, and Fred Keller, tried out for the position of "Jr. M. C." on "Clint" Buehlman's early morning broadcast. Merle Orchard, a Junior, was chosen to represent our school. He appeared on the program for the week of December 15, 1947. His duties included reading commercials and the weather report. However, Merle's favorite task was consulting "Arthur," the thermometer.

Robert Biers, Merle Orchard, Robert McClure, and Fred Keller with "Clint" Buehlman.

ON THE SECOND FLOOR

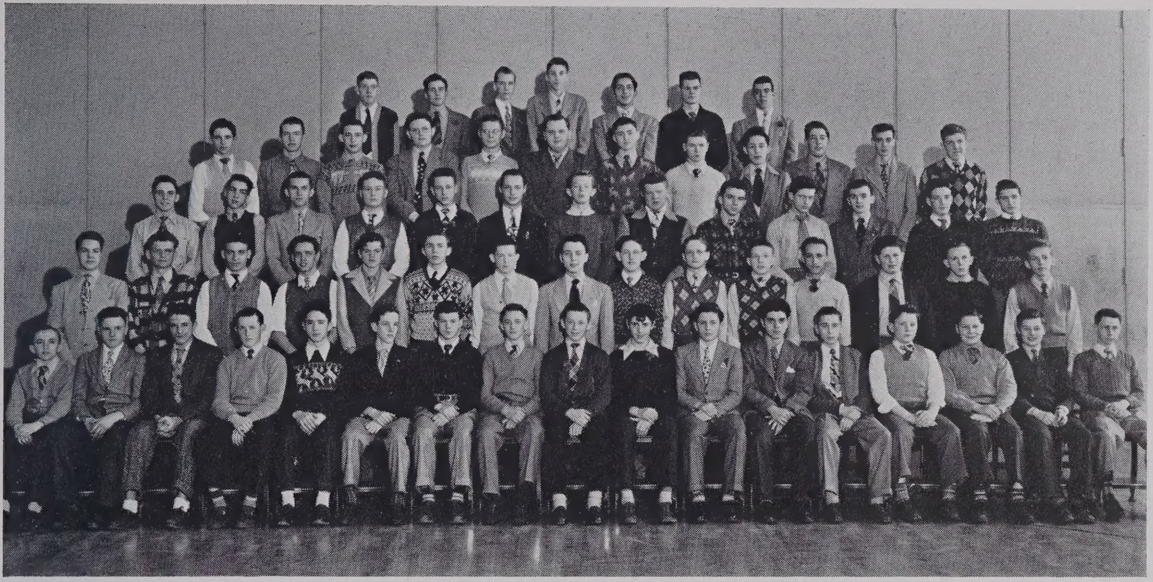
Room 203: The boys of 203 have contributed their athletic ability to the many school sports. Dave Warsocki played on the splendid football team and earned his major letter. Jack Reichert ran Cross Country. Bill Shanahan was a member of the champion intra-mural basketball team and was also on the track squad. Bill Murray, Moe Mahoney, Tom Griffin, and Jack Fritsch represented 203 in swimming. Tony Brennan had a successful season as co-manager and Moe swam his way on to the All-High team. In the Indoor Track Meet, Bruno Nervo broke the school pole vault record, clearing the bar at 10 feet, 11 inches and Tom Griffin tied for second in the running high jump.

The boys of this home room were under the capable guidance of a new teacher, Mr. Hayes, who did a swell job and measured up to the qualities of a good home room teacher.

What's What in 207: Merle Brady, Ronald Christ were members of the chorus. Bruce Burr and Robert Cruise were members of the Chess team. Both boys were also honor students. Fred Center majored in swimming. Our band representatives were John Winter, Jim Buecheler, Fred Center, Bill Snyder, John Bruno, Bob Colucci and Spartaco Mazzulli.

Stan Walker participated in football. Bob Colucci and John Bruno were on the track team. Chris Costuros went out for baseball. Chris and Don Smith have done some fine drawings for The Compass.

So, in every field, scholastic and athletic, the boys of 207 lead the way under the capable guidance of Mr. Millard.



SOPHOMORES—ROOMS 206, 209, 211

Bottom Row: M. Stockman, D. Allen, R. Laufer, R. Ronald, R. Harris, R. Priddle, R. Erb, G. Gibson, R. Stenman, M. Puricelli, H. Andres, G. Rossney, T. Matre, H. Aldrich, F. Foote, H. Heckelman, G. Bissonette.

Second Row: S. Militello, J. Lentz, R. Scamurra, D. Peacock, J. Murphy, R. Gaczewski, R. Hughes, J. Gervan, J. Franzek, D. Bolton, P. Fickenscher, R. Kellogg, K. Barber, E. Zielinski, E. Trautwein.

Third Row: J. Browne, H. Putnam, G. Bidell, J. Crump, F. Dittmar, R. Harlock, H. Rybacki, R. Rochevot, A. Miller, P. Preston, W. Ives.

Fourth Row: P. Cannon, R. Pfohl, J. Shaver, J. Gertis, J. Paufler, J. Herrmann, S. Aldridge, J. Wojtan, S. Axelrod, E. Button, D. Crowe.

Top Row: R. Roche, J. Russ, W. Pearce, R. Plummer, J. Ferrara, G. Whalen, R. Reynolds.

SOPHOMORE DOINGS

Room 211: Many boys from 211 were active in sports during the year. Roger Laufer won his major letter in swimming. Nice going, Roger! Out for track this year were Dick Busselle, Bob Harris, Roderick Kellogg, and Fred Dittmar. Jim Gervan, Edward Button, Paul Fickenscher, Fred Dittmar, George Bissonette, Dick Hughes, and Roderick Kellogg were on 211's basketball team. In football, Richard Hughes and Bob Gaczewski represented 211.

Other activities also interested the boys. Roderick Kellogg sang in the A Cappella mixed choir which performed in the Easter program. Jim Gervan was president of the Cartoon Club and vice-president of the Dramatic Club, as well as art editor of the school paper, The Ken Keynotes. Paul Fickenscher and James Fronzak were on the Projection Staff.

Room 209 is justly proud of its representatives in the various activities at Ken, for they have brought honor to the entire Sophomore class. Outstanding in sports were the following boys:

Richard Reynolds, who was on our championship football team.

James Shaver, who pitched on the baseball team.

Robert Scamurra, who participated in both cross country and basketball.

James Browne and James Ruso, who were members of the track squad.

Holding places on the honor roll were Robert Scamurra, Kenneth Barber, James Paufler, Mario Puricello, George Rossney, and Roger Ronard.

Another outstanding representative is Sandy Militello, one of the enthusiastic cheer leaders and a member of the marching band.

SOPHOMORE REVIEW

Room 205: Leaders on the Honor Roll of Room 205 throughout the year were Alfred Rossow, Robert McClure and Robert Ponicsan. Also on the honor roll during the year were George Wagner, Norman Wagner, Robert Vester, Norm Luepschen and Ronald McFarland. Edward Ryan and George Mauer were members of the cross-country squad. Ted Zielinski received his major letter for his participation in cross-country. Paul Peterson, Richard Freeman and George Mauer were members of the chess club. Robert Fidon, Norman Wagner, Carl Mancino, Robert McClure, Jack Cain, Robert Ponicsan, Ralph Reuss and Robert Vester made up the winning Sophomore basketball team. Dan Joyce received his varsity letter for swimming, and Ted Meimczk was on the swimming squad. Those who answered the call for track were Ralph Reuss, Norm Lindner, Ted Zielinski, John Seward and Alfred Rossow. Al was also a member of the football team.

On the line in 309: The activities which interested the boys of 309 this year were many and varied. The room was well represented in the field of sports. Basketball was the most popular, with four boys representing 309 on the squad. They were Paul Stotz, Ronald Schifferle, Donald Rydzy and Carl Connor. Carl also tore up the turf as a member of the football squad. Running with the cross country squad was Dale Hannan, while representing 309 in swimming was Richard Dake.

Not to be outdone by his athletic classmates, James Hatch participated in the interscholastic chess meets as a member of Mr. Millard's chess team. Music-minded Robert Thrun was a member of the orchestra, while James Barr distinguished himself on the Projection Staff.

Representing the Compass in 309 were Edmund Bednarek, who was a homeroom reporter, and Ronald Rydza, who was Compass Manager of the class.

LIFE IN 462

Having passed the bewildering Freshman year and become well acquainted with the school, the girls of 462 started out in autumn, eager to participate in the various activities. Judy Cerajewski, Lorraine Barrett and Mary Meissner, acting as cheerleaders, prepared us for the exciting football season. Among the many who enjoyed sports, Natalie Ferringer played on the Sophomore Basketball Team and Gloria Berney on the Volleyball Team. Ruth Furlong, Marcia Butler, Mary McMahon, Janet Harber, Jean Meade, Edna Ludwig, Pat Malcolm, Edith Dahlke, and Thelma Luck performed in the Water Carnival. Other sports which proved popular included tumbling, horseback riding and bowling.

A few who sang in the A Cappella Choir were Pat Pender, Marilyn Pelloth, Wilma Hachten, and Caryl Laird. During the year Margaret Chapman, Marlene Roehmholdt, and Nancy Heuer continuously held high averages on the Honor Roll.

Representing 462 in the Compass Staff, Rita Dormann was our capable Sales Manager. Marilyn Ball and Dona McKerman were Compass Ad Chairmen and Carolyn Larter was Football Ticket Sales Manager.

This year, at Christmastime, all the students at Ken, at the suggestion of Mr. Monan, wrote letters of good cheer and gratitude to their parents. The letters, composed in the English classes, were written on special stationery which depicted a gay Christmas scene.

ANNEX NOTES—466

Patra Wendling, Shirley Surderske and Nancy Thurnherr were high on the honor rolls. Dorothy Zeitler and Caroline Shetler played in the orchestra. Catherine Sirface and Nancy Thurnherr were in A Cappella Choir. Pat Story spoke on many interesting topics during our study periods. We had a Christmas party which was enjoyed by all. Almost all the girls took part in the Christmas Pageant. Audrey Schiemant, Joan Westphal, Audrey Zelin and Caroline Shetler were interested in bowling. Marilyn Zimmerer went horseback riding and was in the Water Carnival. Norma Schultz, Joanna Schaefer, and Audrey Zelin participated in badminton. Agnita Tollen took part in volleyball and basketball. Joan Schnitzer displayed artistic talent when she put our honor rolls on the board for us.

Best of luck to my Best Girlfriend

HONOR ROLL LEADERS

This year, a new policy of quarterly honor roll awards was instituted at Kensington High School. "Awards of Merit" certificates were given for the first, second, and third highest honors in each of the Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, and Senior classes. Each quarter, the participants were honored by an assembly at which the coveted awards were presented by Mr. Monan.

Fourth Row: D. Wopperer, A. Ferrentino, W. Cunius, N. Snyder, E. Haller, J. Klosterman, L. Schenk.

For all the Freshman boys who wished to participate, a Bowling Club was organized. The club, which met every Friday afternoon, gave the boys an opportunity to take part in a school activity.

Participating at the Bailey Bowling Academy were thirty-two boys, who were divided into six five-man teams, who bowled for ten weeks.

The boys enjoyed this sport immensely and hope Mr. Meegan will organize an Intramural League again next Fall.

FROSH SPORTS

In this year's Freshman class were many outstanding athletes who will in future years be the mainstays of Kensington's varsity teams.

Cross Country: A few of the boys who made the squad were Leigh Reichert, Jerry Label, Carl Roesch, Dave Johnson, Bob McCurdy, Tom Zeibold and Lee Haurik, the only Freshman to receive a major letter.

Intramural Basketball: Basketball made a big hit with the Freshmen. Eight Freshman intramural basketball teams were formed and these teams played every day after school. The winning team was Otterbein which won all of its games but lost to the Sophomores in the semi-final for the championship. This team consisted of Si Lunetta, Eddy Faber, Billy Richmond, Ronald Turner, Dave Johnson, Donald Grampp, Gene Willard, and Don Klein who, because of his exceptionally good playing, was able to participate in some of the Varsity Team's games.

Swimming: When Mr. Warren issued his first call for swimming practice, he was met by a large group of enthusiastic Freshman boys. Under his guidance these boys practiced everyday and because of this constant practice, the trio of Dick Schmitt, Neil Mahoney and Jimmy Barry were able to set a new Freshman mark for the medley relay in the Kensington pool. Other boys were: Gene Willard, Bob Reinig, Arn Poppenberg, John MacMahon, Noel Eberz, Norm Snyder, and Frank Zanghi, who was the able manager.

FRESHMEN—ROOMS 304, 306

NOTES FROM 306

HIGH AMONG THE FRESHMEN

The consistent honor roll leader among the Freshman boys was Paul Roetling. In close competition were: John McMahon, Edwin Menth, Wolis Barback, and Edward Faber.

ARMISTICE DAY

Once again the Freshmen of 306 and 304 put on the Armistice Day Program with the following boys taking part: David Johnson, Henry Tobe, James McGuire, John McMahon, and Richard Wiesinger, who took the roll of announcer. Supplying the music were Conrad Toepfer with his violin and a group of boys known as the Trumpeteers who played Tenting Tonight.

The boys who took part were exceptionally well-versed in their parts and showed the results of the many rehearsals necessary to advance themselves to the poised manner in which they conducted themselves. Mr. Meegan was very fortunate to get such fine material to work with. Their grade school teachers evidently laid a good foundation.

Many congratulations, boys, on a job well-done!

COMING EVENTS

Sometime this Spring, time permitting, we plan to have a picnic. A committee will be chosen and divided into sections—each section responsible for a definite activity such as transportation, food, games, prizes, etc. Last year's inauguration of the Annual Frosh Picnic met with such whole-hearted acceptance and success, that nothing can keep us from trying to duplicate it.

ROOM 403

Room 403 is represented in many fields of endeavor. Peggy Volk brought honor to the room by attaining first place on the Freshman honor roll for two quarters. Mary Ondrejka was also an honor student. Karleen Wheelock was a baton twirler in the Marching Band, of which Janet Fogelsonger was also a member. Delores Ferguson attained membership in the Ad Club, selling $23 worth of ads.

Many girls participated in after school sports. Mary Lou Urso was on the Varsity volleyball team, while Jean Schenk went out for badminton. Joyce Williams and Carol Waters became expert life savers, and Linda Vines and Mary Rebhan were in the Water Show.

ROOM 463

Many girls of 463 took advantage of the sports offered this year. The first activity was volleyball, in which Dolores Radel, Rose Marie Romagnuolo, Janice Stellrecht, Nancy Syrcher, Joyce Taylor, Norma Thomson, Donna Miller, Joan Page, and Joan Pepke took part. Basketball was also very popular, with 11 girls participating. Among these were Marjorie Springer, Kathy Sullivan, and Adele Otis. Jean Rathmann, Donna Sutton, Norma Thomson, Anita Mehl, and Joan Page enjoyed swimming and were in the Water Show. Jean Rathmann was the lone bowler of the room, and Joan Pepke the only hiker. Badminton fans were Pat O'Rourke, and Adele Otis. Pat O'Rourke, Joan Page, Joan Papke, Janice Stellrecht and Nancy Syrcher went out for baseball.

The representatives of the Compass in 463 were Joan Page, the home-room reporter, and Norma Thomson, a member of the ad staff.

"I REMEMBER 406"

As I look back, this first year in 406 was a whirl! At times I wonder that we were undaunted by those "higher ups". But not even the four long flights of stairs could dampen our enthusiasm for Kensington. I remember the thrill of those first football games—how we cheered. We canvassed the neighborhood selling tickets to support "our team." We did our best with Dorothy Moest selling the most.

Do you remember the Hallowe'en party? Betty Ely and Betty Healy won prizes for their costumes.

Many more happy memories return of all those good sports who took part in athletics. I remember especially Carol Kuhn who was on the freshman varsity team in basketball and volleyball. Suzanne Haun was on the varsity basketball team too. Sue often topped the honor roll in 406. Irene Anastasia was captain of a freshman basketball team.

The majority of the girls were in some sport, either volleyball, basketball, riding, badminton or baseball. Rosemary Blersch, Doris La Rosa, Dorothy Moest and Marilyn Kaufhold were some of the outstanding mermaids from our room.

My classmates were in other activities too, like the French Club where Doris Bexall, Sylvia Curtis, Marlene Frietag and Mary Hillman were heard to "parlez." Irene Anastasia did a lot of work in the home Ec Club with Eleanor Herring and Betty Ely. They say it's easy to play Chess—that is, Rose Hoeger, Lucille Hoffman, and Rosemary Blersch say it is easy.

I remember how much we tried to help Miss Heacock in the various committees we organized. The scholarship committee helped figure averages, the Girls Council helped with plans

AMONG THE FRESHMEN

June Mesner At Work

June Mesner, a 404 Freshman of exceptional abilities has been extremely helpful in copying the layouts for our yearbook. She was recommended by the Art Editor because of the neatness and precision of her work. In future years, her talent will help to make the Compass a success.

This annex room was well represented at the Freshman Girls' Hallowe'en Party. Theresa Perry won a prize for having one of the most original costumes, and Marguerite Parise entertained the girls by singing and dancing. Marguerite later became one of the drum majorettes in the marching band. Master of ceremonies at the party was Gay Ann Bowen, who has also distinguished herself by maintaining a top scholastic average.

Room 404 was overflowing with Christmas spirit during the holiday season. Red and green trimmings and drawings made by Dorothy Wittlief adorned the blackboards. A party of gaiety was held with a variety of refreshments supplied by the girls. The food was so delicious that many forgot their calories and just ate. The Christmas spirit remained in the room long after Santa Claus had left, for the girls sent baskets throughout the year to members of the class absent because of illness.

FRESHMAN FEATURES

Room 411: Norma Honecker was Captain of the bowling team and also Compass manager. Elvi Hirvela was Compass representative. Girls in the water show were Dolores Furbo, Jeanette Hauser, Elvi Hirvela, Anita Lauri, Shirley Mamott and Joan Funk. In Room 411, ten girls have been on all the honor rolls. Among these were Norma Honecker, Arlene Haug, Elvi Hirvela, Jeanette Hauser and Patricia Hartke. Catherine Hawley was in the A Cappella choir. Shirley Mamott won the ring at the Freshman girls Hallowe'en party. Norma Honecker and Shirley Kessner were members of the Spanish Club and Jeri Keating was a member of the French Club. Dorothy Henderson belonged to the Home Economics Club.

Room 413: This year room 413 has participated in many sports, clubs, and other events. Betty Andres, Sue Brueck, Jane Demme and Patricia Woodside were all in the water carnival. On the Volleyball team were Joan Bilger, Jean Bilger and Barbara Birkby, with Betty Andres on the Basketball team. Mary A. Wozniak, Norma Wagner, Joan Szymanski, Betty Lou Szydlowski, and Shirley Drescher participated in bowling and received their fifty points. Rose Abbonando joined the French Club, Betty Andres the Sketch Club, Josephine DeCarolis the Cartoon Club, and Shirley Drescher the Home Economics Club. The subscription manager for our room was Rose Abbonando, and Barbara Birkby had charge of the ads. Rose Abbonando, Sue Brueck, Dorothy Csont, and Gertrude Staley have continuously been on the Honor Roll. We had the good fortune to have a Christmas party and exchange gifts this year. Rose Abbonando won the originality prize at the Hallowe'en party. All in all it has been a busy year for Room 413.

HONOR ROLL

This Honor Roll includes the names of all students who have had an average of 90% or higher on the first and second quarterly Honor Rolls this year. The third and fourth quarterly lists appear too late for publication. Each asterisk denotes the number of times a student attained an honor average.

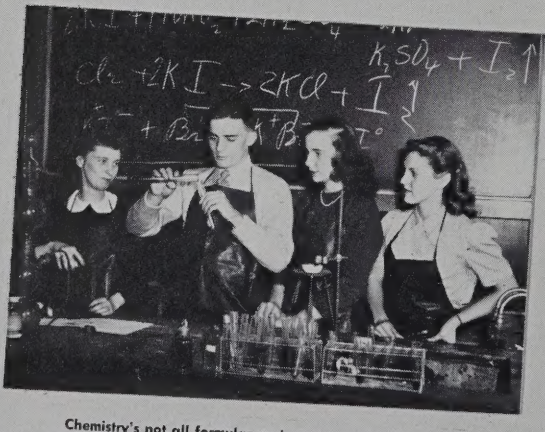
You have seen pictures of all the classes at Kensington, the Seniors and Juniors, the Sophomores, the Freshmen. What is a school day like for all these students? On these pages Senior class officers Carol Steve, Joan Mann, and Gloria Wietig enact the story of what we do from 8:45 to 2:30 — in the classroom . . . the gym . . . the cafeteria . . .

Why should they hurry? It's only 8:35! Gloria, Carol, and Joan — wide awake, and ready for a day at Ken.

We live in our lockers! (No pets allowed.) Carol and Joan "prepare" for class.

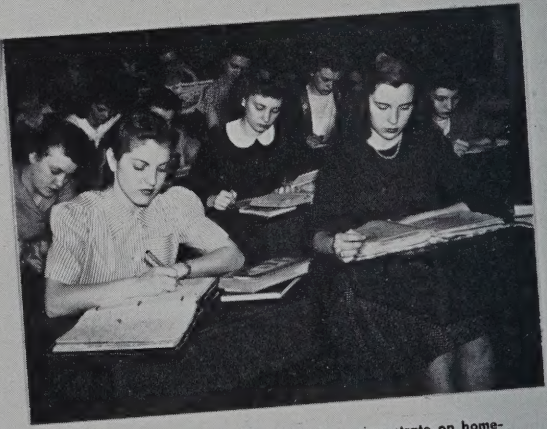
Life's fun at Ken. Carol, Joan, and Gloria enjoy the morning assembly.

Going up! Carol says "Hello" to Bill, our genial elevator operator, while the other girls talk about . . .?

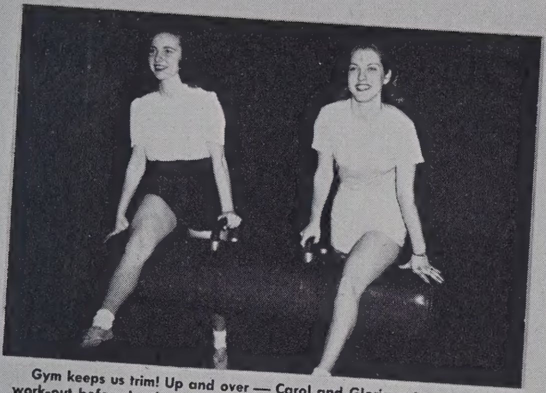


$K_2SO_4 + I_2\uparrow$
$Cl_2 + 2KI \rightarrow 2KCl + I_2$

Chemistry's not all formulas and equations. The girls watch senior scientist, Jimmy Turner.



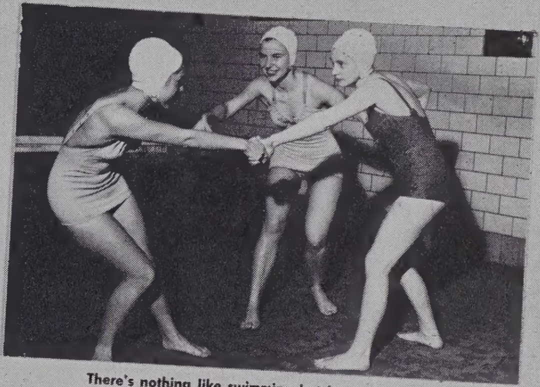
Study hall! Gloria, Carol, and Joan concentrate on homework. That studious look belongs to serious Seniors.



Gym keeps us trim! Up and over — Carol and Gloria get a work-out before lunch.

Cafeteria — everybody loves lunch hour! Gloria and Carol in animated discussion, but Joan? No mustard on her ham sandwich!

What are all those gadgets, girls? In Office Practice the girls learn to operate business machines.



There's nothing like swimming but better yet in the water, gals. "Their bathing suits never got wet."

Carol and Gloria giggle as they glimpse Webster's Book of Short Stories.

Watch it, Joan! The recipe says "half a cup"! The girls try their hand at baking a cake.

"The curfew tolls the knell of parting day." Homeward bound — Gloria, Joan, and Carol reluctantly leave Ken . . . until tomorrow.

ACTIVITIES

In compiling a record of life at Kensington, we cannot overlook the many activities which comprise such a vital part of the student's education. Whether he is interested in dramatics or chess, drawing or debating, mathematics or history, there is an activity for him. Our various clubs and societies, organized under the capable guidance of the faculty, attempt to provide an outlet for our many diverse interests and for our unbounded energy.

COMPASS STAFF

At this point the Compass Editors take time out from arranging pictures and correcting copy and submit to you the finished product—the Compass of 1948. With malice toward none, except those who forgot their deadlines; with charity for all, especially the printer, who has had the patience of Job; we put down our pens and relax.

Our yearbook has been a success through the combined efforts of a capable literary staff, our gifted Rembrandts, many speedy and efficient secretarial workers, and the super-salesmen of the advertising and circulation departments. Nor can we forget our faculty advisors, without whose guidance and assistance we could not have completed our year book.

We wish to extend a special word of gratitude to Miss Kammerer, whose unceasing efforts during this and former years have been instrumental in making the Compass a prize winning publication.

PHOTOGRAPHY

To Mr. Joseph Manch, the 1948 Compass Staff extends its most sincere appreciation for his help in making this yearbook a complete story of a record-breaking year. Despite a very heavy schedule as an English teacher and counsellor, Mr. Manch generously gave us his complete cooperation. He was never too busy to take "one more picture"—and we asked for many because pictures can tell a story better than words.

It is because of Mr. Manch's help that we have been able to carry out our theme, The Life of a Student at Kensington, with so many graphic, memorable pictures.

The Secretarial Staff was responsible for the typing of all material for the Compass. Under the supervision of Mrs. Jacobs, Manager Norma Piske and her staff of 28 capable girls worked diligently and willingly every day. In addition to typing all of the copy, the girls spent hours checking the spelling of names, preparing lists, and in general, helping in the organization of the yearbook.

COMPASS CAPTURES CUPS

Kensington High School has won the Western New York Interscholastic Press Association Trophy six times in the last seven years. The yearbooks of 1941, 1942, and 1943 brought permanent possession of the first trophy to "Ken." In 1945, 1946, and 1947 Kensington again won the award. Kensington now boasts two of these coveted trophies and is trying for a third.

ADVERTISING STAFF

Again the Compass Advertising Staff played an important factor in the financial success of the Compass. This organization was open to anyone who secured an ad. A student who obtained $25 or more in ads became a member of the "Ad Club". The student selling the greatest number of ads was chosen as advertising manager.

The officers of the Ad Club are Charles Schwender, Room 106, President; Kenneth Barber, Room 209, Vice President; Joan Page, Room 463, Secretary; Jack Schrier, Room 206, Treasurer.

No small part of the success of the advertising staff is due to the untiring efforts of Mr. Meegan, faculty advisor.

LANGUAGE CLUBS

LOS AMIGOS

Alternate Thursdays were the scheduled days for the meetings of Los Amigos. Under the able leadership of Miss Dunlavey and their officers, Presidente, Rita Willert; Vice-Presidentes, Marilyn Ball and Sally Sturm; and Secretaria, Madeline Onorato, the members soon appreciated the history and customs of Mexico, Central and South America, as well as the architecture and literature of Spain, the land of Don Quixote. Games, quiz programs, movies, and stories have further extended their understanding and knowledge of the Spanish-speaking countries. With the close of the school year the members bid "Hasta luego" to their friends and eagerly await the meetings of next year.

FRENCH CLUB

Are you interested in learning something about France: its culture, language, customs, games, and people? If so, just take part in a French Club meeting under the supervision of Miss Tewksbury with President Chester Owczarzak presiding. Lorraine Jakubowska is upper class Vice-President; Pearl Barger, lower class Vice-President; and Joan Gracie, Secretary.

The aim of these friendly group meetings, held every other Thursday, is to add to the students' enjoyment of the language. The students gain a knowledge of French culture and music in a more informal atmosphere than the classroom affords. Also, those no longer in French classes can maintain their understanding of the language.

GERMAN CLUB

One Thursday afternoon I heard the melodies of beautiful German songs in the corridors of Kensington. Upon investigation in Room 239 I found that Wagner's opera, "Die Meistersinger," was being presented on victrola records to the students who wished not only to improve the German they learn in class but also to extend their study to the culture, customs, and habits of the German people. At the informal meetings held once a month under Miss Westerman's able direction, games using the German language were played, and discussions concerning the literary and artistic achievements of great Germans were a source of valuable information. The officers were: President, Norman Reuss; Vice-President, Ruth Kimmler; Secretary, Elsie Gehrman; and Treasurer, Joan Adams.

LATIN CLUB

The members of the Latin Club, under Miss McCarthy's able sponsorship, have not only gained a more intelligent understanding of Roman customs and habits, but also have increased their interest in the civilization which has so profoundly affected the Western nations. Serious and humorous plays relating to the life of Caesar, Cicero and other famous Romans, slides depicting Roman life, sketches of mythological characters, and the working of crossword puzzles using Latin words have formed the major portion of our programs during the year.

We elected to represent us the following

CLASSICAL CLUB

The language and literature of ancient Greece, introduced this year as an intra-curricular activity, was earnestly studied by twelve seniors. Having learned the Greek alphabet and having realized that the language is vital, cultural, and within the range of their ability, these students mastered and appreciated much of the Hellenic culture. Grammar and reading were supplemented by etymology. The students became acquainted with many scientific terms of Greek origin.

Through the study of Greek, it is hoped that the student will develop a broader point of

COMMERCE CLUB

One of the most helpful organizations in the development of essential business-like qualifications is the Commerce Club, whose success is the result of the efforts of Mrs. Jacobs and other commercial teachers. Its members are familiarized with modern office methods, and their standards of performance are raised.

At the second monthly meeting, Esther Mierzwa was elected President; Louise Galmbacher, Vice-President; Jean Cwiklinski, Secretary; and Marie Balk, Treasurer.

Guest speakers included Miss Mary Louise Nice, a guidance counselor, who gave an interesting talk on "Personal Qualifications," and Mr. Omar J. Lane, a sales representative of the Underwood Typewriter Corporation, who demonstrated an electric typewriter. At another meeting Mrs. Jacobs presented a very helpful movie, "Speed Building." Social meetings and a picnic in June completed the program for the year.

CARTOON CLUB

"Cartoon Club meeting tonight, Wednesday, Room 237!" Such is the notice which has been on the bulletin boards of Kensington this year for the first time. It has been a welcome sight to all those Ken students who have ever had the urge to create their own comic characters.

Mr. Fisher, director of the club, has had wide experience in this field. Cartooning was a boyhood hobby, and later he drew cartoons for the State Teachers College newspaper, and still later for Yank, the army weekly. Now he finds time to do cartoons for publication, and his large collection of originals helps the members to improve their own work.

Preliminary meetings dealt with simple heads and expressions; then we progressed to stick figures, clothed stick figures, wrinkles in clothing, and girls' head and figure characters, hands, feet, and small detail work.

This is only the beginning of the Cartoon Club. Next year we hope to have more frequent meetings and to create some cartoon characters that will merit publication. Officers for 1947-1948 were James Gervan, President; Mildred Boje, Vice-President; Mary Lou Gregson, Secretary; Carol Laird, Treasurer.

CLUB

STUDIO CLUB

A vital part of life at Ken is the Studio Club, which met Fridays in Room 250. Officers were: Nancy Beenau, President; Janet Liebler, Vice-President; and Alice Francis, Secretary. Miss Davis conducted several interesting sketching lessons, using among her models Nancy Knockenhauer, Margaret Bullinger, Joan Coleman, Jim Hines and Charles Szfarczak.

Sketching however, was only one of the club's activities. The students completed many other artistic projects during the year. Virginia Bernacki, Barbara Borkowski, Robert Enser, Roy Stuhlmiller, Virginia Manke, Carol Galbo and Joan Herman decorated the auditorium for the football assemblies. Janet Liebler and Nancy Beenau constructed the thermometer which was used to measure the sale of football tickets and added to it daily to show the progress of the various classes. Football signs for display in local store windows and Ken's corridors were made by Carol Bullinger, Joan Frankenberger, Frank Mazurowski, Charles Brunner, and Alice Francis. These same students produced large display cards for the Freedom Train assembly in November, and decorations for the St. Patrick's Day program.

ASSEMBLY PROGRAMS

With the opening of the football season in late September, our assemblies began. Those passing Kensington on Friday mornings were often terrified by the unusual sounds coming from within. However, there was no cause for alarm for the noises were only the cheers of Kensington's student body, spurred on to louder and huskier efforts by our enthusiastic principal, Mr. Monan. At these football rallies humorous skits were presented by the Public Speaking Classes, in which Art (Swami) Nehrbass and Joan (Southern-belle) Mann earned their claim to fame. The result of our assemblies and incidentally of the ability of our team, was the winning of the Harvard Cup. We celebrated this victory with a super-special assembly, at which "Sherm" Wright, Al Watts, "Charlie" Bailey and "Bud" Hulick were guests.

We quieted down on Armistice Day, when the Freshmen of 306, temporarily overcoming their stage-fright, presented their traditional program.

The next occasion worthy of an assembly was the visit of the Freedom Train to Buffalo. The American History classes presented skits, depicting famous events of the past. Made famous in this assembly were the historic words, "Sign, John, sign."

At our traditional Thanksgiving Assembly, the A Cappella Choir and the orchestra presented a program

DRAMATIC CLUB

"To be or not to be." If you walk into a room some Thursday after school and hear this or some similar expression, you know that Kensington's Dramatic Club is in session. The club, composed of all the Kensingtonians aspiring to be actors and actresses, meets every two weeks under the excellent supervision of Mrs. Johns and Miss Strickland.

At the first meeting, election of officers was held, with the following results: President, Augusta Schultz; Vice-President, James Gervan; and Secretary, Theresa Batyra. At one of the subsequent meetings a Constitution, submitted by Arthur Nehrbass, was voted upon and adopted.

The members of the club received interesting instruction on proper stage manners. They put on several skits and read some well-known ballads. The pantomimes performed by the members were as interesting as they were hilarious.

LIBRARY MONITORS

Kensingtonians develop a greater interest in the cultural aspects of literature through their intelligent and frequent contacts with our well-supplied library. By reading books on various subjects, the students are able to acquire a deeper and more complete understanding of current problems and historical facts.

Miss Lane, our capable librarian is assisted by monitors, who learn the functions of the library by working in it themselves. They also have the duties of checking the attendance of our library's faithful visitors, delivering our library slips to the study rooms and aiding the students in choosing suitable reference material.

The colorful bulletin board displays, the well-stocked magazine room, and the interesting newspaper rack, are attractions which add to the popularity of our library and inspire the students to make the best use of the educational opportunities provided there.

Any information desired on science, etiquette, philosophy, mathematics, and a multitude of other subjects, can be obtained from our library, which is one of the most pleasant places for study and research in the school. Every year the library monitors trudge many miles and check thousands of library slips. This unceasing service is of inestimable value to us at Kensington. Our sincere appreciation is extended to Miss Lane and her efficient staff for their willingness to help us solve our scholastic problems.

Marlene Jackson and Gloria Botham work at their secretarial duties on the Projection Staff.

Fred Michel, one of the Staff's trained operators, shows a movie to a science class.

PROJECTION STAFF

Here at Kensington, the appearance of one of the projectors in a classroom is a welcome sight to both students and teacher. To the teacher it means that his or her class will be ably instructed by an educational film. To the students it means that they will see a "movie" that period,—a welcome respite from routine methods of teaching.

At the beginning of the year, members of the staff undergo a period of intensive training in the use of the various projectors. They then take a practical examination, showing that they know how to operate these projectors, and a written examination on the theory involved. Working behind the scenes are the secretaries. These girls are a vital part of the staff. They check equipment in and out, and give assignments to the operators.

The faculty advisors for our projection staff are Miss Heacock and Mr. Hallahan.

Members of the staff who serve as operators are: James Barr, John Beenau, Norbert Bishop, John Breeser, Ray Denne, Janice Eggert, Gary Engerer, Beverly Evans, Paul Fickenscher, Richard Freeman, James Franzek, Ronald Garnaret, Paul Henke, Carol Hiscutt, Guy Hopkins, Donald Hyde, Marlene Jackson, Fred Michel, Randolph McGhee, Richard Moss, Paul Peterson, Clifford Reuter, Richard Rogalski, Richard Warner.

"Resolved: that the Federal Government require one year of military training for all male citizens under twenty-one years of age." This subject commanded the interest and attention of all the students this year, partly because of its potential application to many of Ken's students and partly because of the tense international situation.

Although we lost both debates to our opponents, Grover Cleveland and Riverside, we gained a valuable lesson from our experience, and we accepted defeat in the same spirit with which we welcome victory.

The Debate Club, with Joseph Pieri, President; Gloria Wietig, Vice-President; Lorraine Rosinski, Secretary; and Daniel Molik, Treasurer, met twice monthly for practice debates on a wide variety of subjects ranging from the "New Look" to the "St. Lawrence Seaway." This group was led by Mr. McMahon.

AMERICANISM ESSAY CONTEST

As a winner of the annual Americanism essay contest, Joanne Hanna was awarded a trip to Washington during the Easter vacation with all expenses paid through the courtesy of the News and the American Legion. She and the eleven other winners saw many beautiful and historic spots, such as Mount Vernon, the Capitol, Arlington National Cemetery, the Lincoln and Jefferson Memorials, and the Washington Monument. Of special interest was a visit to Annapolis Naval Academy, where the group was shown around the grounds by a handsome midshipman from Buffalo.

The high spot of the trip was an afternoon which the group spent at the Capitol as guests of Representative Elsaessar. During the luncheon preceding the afternoon's entertainment, Joanne met such men as Representatives Elsaessar, Butler and Andrews of Buffalo, and Speaker of the House Joseph Martin. Incidentally, the group was fortunate, for the weather was beautiful and the cherry blossoms were in full bloom.

AMERICANISM ESSAY EXCERPTS

"Americanism . . . is the milk for our children and the meat for our laborers. It is a Methodist choir singing "Are Ye Able?" and a devout Catholic repeating his rosary. It is a businessman closing a fifty thousand dollar deal, and a grocer changing a fifty-cent piece . . . It is a mother knitting for the Red Cross and her boy dying at Iwo Jima."

"It is Americanism which shines from the face of an immigrant as he speaks of his adopted land, and glows in the eyes of a Civil War veteran whose ancestors came over on the Mayflower."

"Great men have lived for it; many men have died for it. And now they have become part of it—a vital part of the way of life which we call Americanism."

"We cannot express in words the meaning of Americanism in our lives. To us, Americanism is life itself."

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

This year the aim of the Home Economics Club was to gain a better appreciation of the American way of life. By working together, playing together and helping others, the members gained a basis for establishing a happy home life. At their bi-weekly meetings the girls learned such crafts as making shell and sequin jewelry, stuffed toys, knitted and crocheted articles. Some of the girls acquired new and remunerative hobbies.

Visits to the Art Gallery and the Historical Building, fashion shows, teas and parties provided means of practicing social graces in an enjoyable manner. Sewing kits for the needy, an afghan for Red Cross distribution, and character doll Easter egg favors for the Crippled Children's Guild made us more conscious of those less fortunate.

The following officers guided our program under the sponsorship of the Home Economics teachers: Dolores Schroeer, President; Carol Steve, Vice-President; Irene Anastasia, Secretary; Margaret Bullinger, Treasurer; Rita Kirkpatrick, Chairman of the Program Committee.

Because of increased interest, advanced Home Economics courses such as clothing, Household Management and Home Nursing; and Family Relations and Child Care were popular. A new course in Advanced Foods was added. Here the girls gain additional knowledge in the preparation of food and have an opportunity to develop demonstration techniques.

JOURNALISM CLUB

Kenneth Day, Treasurer, Gloria Wietig, Vice-President, Arthur Nehrbass, President, Betty McKenica, Secretary.

The life of a student is indeed a busy one if he or she spends Tuesday afternoons in 209, the headquarters of the Journalism Club. Once the door is opened members are in the midst of a whirl of activity. First there is the business meeting, which is completed as soon as possible by President, Arthur Nehrbass; Vice-President, Gloria Wietig; Secretary, Betty McKenica; and Treasurer, Kenneth Day.

After this is over things really get moving. Over in one corner Mrs. Stewart is explaining the importance of knowing the what, when, where, who, why, and how of a news story; and in another, Editor-in-Chief Elizabeth Moore is handing out assignments for the school newspaper, Ken Keynotes. This year, much to the delight of everyone, the Keynotes received the "new look" when the smaller edition replaced the former long sheets. Mr. Demerly, business manager of the paper, counsels the staff on the art of making our paper a financial success.

The boys and girls darting out of the room are being sent in search of accurate information about school activities and sports, and those rushing back in are trying to meet a deadline.

The Journalism Club has proved itself a success both by giving its members experience in writing and by furnishing all loyal Kensingtonians with news and views of our school and what's going on in it.

SLIDE RULE CLUB

The students of Kensington realize the need for learning all they can while in high school. For this reason, the Slide Rule Club, under the leadership of Mr. Larrabee, plays an important part in the lives of those students who seek a supplement to their curricular instruction.

At the Wednesday afternoon meetings in 104, problems in business arithmetic, physics, chemistry, radio, as well as all other math problems are solved. On the lighter side mathematical puzzles and tricks are explained by the use of a slide rule. By employing a transit, the height of the school chimney was calculated. Besides the actual solving of problems, the members have become acquainted with the history of mathematics and ancient instruments of calculation. This knowledge helps the students not only to solve problems but also inspires them to study higher mathematics.

RADIO CLUB

Does your radio have an A. C. hum? Do the kilocycles and megacycles get tangled up on your short wave band? Is FM still an untried mystery to you?

If your answer is "Yes," that is because you were not a member of the Kensington Radio Club! Under the excellent instruction of Mr. Haynes, the mysteries of radio and electronics have become marvels of the new frontiers in scientific knowledge to us.

Beginning with a review of electricity and sound we have progressed through the intricacies of A. C. theory to the wonders of the vacuum tube and its ability to radiate energy long distances through the ether to other vacuum tube circuits where the message in sound or pictures is made available to all.

To qualify for charter membership in the club, candidates were required to complete a project such as a demonstration of radio equipment or building a power pack, a one-tube set or an oscillator. Oh, yes, much ingenuity was displayed. But how were these radios produced? Off we went to Colonial Radio Corporation where we saw radios being produced on an assembly line at a rate of seven radios per minute, rather than taking days to put together a single one-tube set!

To trace radio waves back to their source, a trip was arranged to the WBEN transmitter on Grand Island and to the control room and studios in Hotel Statler. FM and television soon became realities rather than just words to us.

Wise in the ways of radio transmission and reception, our enthusiastic group spent never a dull moment under the fine leadership of their officers: George Pausch, President; John Golden, Vice-President; and Bessie Chambos, Secretary.

HISTORY FORUM

Many a sunny spring day will find a number of students remaining in Room 159 long after the dismissal bell has rung. Why? For the History Forum meetings, of course. This club, under the able supervision of Miss Walker, meets to discuss and attempt to understand the problems confronting the world today.

The officers of this year's Forum were: President; Hildegarde Tenbult; Vice-President, Betty McKenica; Secretary, Shirley Winfield; and Program Chairman, Elaine Looze.

After prepared reports have been presented on some major issue, a free discussion and debate period follows, in which the members express their views. This club is one which has proved valuable as well as enjoyable to all its members.

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

A traditional feature of Kensington High School is the singing of the A Cappella Choir. A better appreciation of fine music is obtained from the performances which it presents in assemblies during the year. The group is composed of a boys' choir and a girls' choir which combine to form a mixed A Cappella Choir. Two of the outstanding numbers of this mixed choir were "Oh, What A Beautiful Morning," from the musical "Oklahoma," and "God Bless America."

The first performance of the choir this year was given at the Thanksgiving Day Program, during which the number "Come, Ye Thankful People Come" expressed the spirit of the day. Other selections were "America," by Carey; "Songs My Mother Taught Me", and "Cherubim Song", by Bortniansky. The most awe-inspiring work of the year was "The Lord's Prayer," by Malotte, which was sung at the Easter assembly. "The 23*rd* Psalm," "Bless This House," "Dona Nobis Pacem," a canon in Latin; and "Deep River," a Negro Spiritual, were sung in the same program. Honor came to Kensington this year when a smaller group of A Cappella members sang their St. Patrick's Day selections over WEBR on the evening of March 17.

The type of singing done by the choir is considered to be the most difficult of all group singing. Each member is individually responsible for his or her own part and both the words and the music must be memorized. The choir owes its success largely to the excellent supervision of Miss Marjorie Townsend, who not only instructs the members in regularly assigned classes but also spends many hours after school giving individual assistance. Choir membership is open to all students seriously interested in fine choral work.

ORCHESTRA

Under the direction of Mr. Pinkow, the orchestra is one of the best cultural influences at Kensington. They have contributed greatly to our enjoyment of the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter assemblies, and have also presented numbers on Junior and Senior Day.

BAND

What would our football rallies have been without the rousing music of our band? Under the baton of Mr. Pinkow, they entertained us at assemblies and inspired us to cheer our teams to victory. This year, a marching band, with Majorettes, was organized and drilled by Mr. Montgomery in complicated marching maneuvers. They appeared for the first time in their new green, gold and white uniforms on St. Patrick's Day and marched into the assembly to the spirited music of "MacNamara's Band"—an exciting event Ken students will long remember.

SPRING REVUE

Those who saw any of the performances of our variety show, held May 10 to 14, will agree that "Mrs. Murphy's Boarding House" was a fascinating place. Catherine (Mrs. Murphy) McIntosh has been swamped with requests for a room at her theatrical boarding establishment. There was never a dull moment when Lorraine (Beatrice Day) Jakubowska, Vicki Rigo, Bradley Syrcher, Jack McMahon and Richard Klose got together.

The golden voices of Marjorie Mueller, Marion Hawley, Catherine Hawley, Diane Cawley, Don Greatbatch, and Art Ebert were heard in several numbers. The A Cappella Choirs' rendition of "O, What a Beautiful Morning" was a special feature. The "smooth" music of the swing band was enjoyed by all. Feature attractions were Art Nehrbass' demonstration of magic, and Cliff Otis' specialty act.

Miss Wall, Miss Maloney, Miss Townsend, and Mr. Pinkow combined their talents in the directing of the show.

Joan Frankenberger is the girl who made those colorful posters publicizing the show.

Slam! Bang! Check and doublecheck. With all the enthusiasm found at one of Kensington's victory assemblies the school chess tournament champion Bruce Burr and runner-up Robert Cruise are often discovered moving their pieces across the board although chess is actually not a rough game. This is definitely assured by Mr. Millard to beginners in chess whom he specially coaches during the first few meetings.

Whether you are a girl or a boy; a Freshman or a Senior; you are heartily welcome to join in this worthwhile Wednesday afternoon activity. The officers of the club are: Bruce Burr, President; Kenneth Day, Vice-President; Ralph Finger, Secretary; and Robert Cruise, Treasurer.

Surpassing the records of all other high schools, the chess team consisting of Bruce Burr, captain; Kenneth Day, James Hatch, Robert Cruise, Martin Schultz, Ralph Finger, Donald Schroeder, and Arthur Mathies, completed the most successful chess season in the history of the school, winning all matches except one.

Next year, with the whole team and many members returning and also with the arrival of new aspirants, chess at Kensington is expected to attain even greater heights.

ATHLETICS

As the records of Kensington's athletic teams unfold before our eyes, thrills and achievements roll by in staggering numbers. Many of these accomplishments may be forgotten as the future becomes the present and the past, but the lessons taught by interscholastic competition can never be side-lined. Whether our athletes are backs or linesmen, pitchers, or catchers, in the great game of life, they will always be governed by the rules of fair play. Many years from now, when the records are more nearly complete, our boys will be judged not as winners or losers, but rather as sportsmen.

FOOTBALL

As Kensington High School participated for the tenth time in the annual Harvard Cup race, Coach Bill Bergstrom's lads came through in a blaze of glory with the coveted Harvard Cup.

A hard fighting team of veterans and newcomers opened the season by overpowering Tech 34-0. Bob Wilde (who also threw touchdown passes to Gary Hoffman and Bob Loftus), Dickie Ball, and Ed Cromp accounted for the scoring.

In a practice scrimmage our fleet fullback, Carl Wyles, suffered a sprained ankle and was replaced by our tremendous tackle, Elmer Jahn, who proved to be the best ball carrier of the season. In the South Park game Jahn smashed the line for two tallies and fleet-footed Gene Swartzenburg scored off tackle as the Knights were forced to come from behind.

The Knights reached the height of their season when they swamped Burgard 31-6. Jahn started the scoring with a 39 yard smash through center, and Swartzenburg swept 9 yards off tackle for the second. Again Jahn shot

On December 10, 1947, the Kensington Businessmen's Association gave a banquet at the Trap and Field Club to honor our Harvard Cup Champions. This demonstration of the community's interest in us and our successes will long be remembered as a highlight in Kensington's history.

Never before has any school been honored by the presence of so many distinguished guests. Among those offering congratulations were: Board of Education members The Hon. Samuel C. Markel and the Hon. SWIMMING

The prospects of the Ken Mermen looked most promising for this season with the return of such lettermen as James Hines (last year's co-captain), Bob Gsell, Tom Schaeffer, Roy Stuhlmiller, John McMahon, John Mahoney, John Golden, Dick Keeney, and this year's co-captains, Chuck Baldwin and Kenny Weisansal. These boys, along with the coming squad, earnestly competed for the key positions, which were attained through friendly rivalry.

Every meet in the Syracuse Cup competition was a brilliant victory for our record-breaking Mermen. Our boys embarrassed stop-watches whenever and wherever we swam. One, two, and sometimes three records were shattered in each meet. Although suffering a severely bruised back at the start of the season, our own "Churnin' Charley" Baldwin broke every city record except the backstroke . . . and even lowered his own records.

KEN BREAKS NATIONAL RECORD

The climax of the season came when our big four broke the national 160 yd. free-style record, an event that brought us national prominence. Here's how Joe Cummiskey told the story on "The Inside of Sports"—a coast-to-coast program of the Mutual Broadcasting System: "Here's one for the swimming fans. It's also a claim for greatness by a Buffalo high school. A few days ago at Kensington High School, Buffalo, six hundred fifty students practically tore off the roof for their swimming team. Four boys—Hines, Schaeffer, Gsell, and Baldwin—set a new national high school record for the 160 yard relay. The time? One minute, fourteen and one-tenth seconds. It bettered, by nearly a full second, the record set by Roosevelt High School, Des Moines, Iowa, four years ago. Charley Bailey and Sherm Wright, of our Mutual Station in Buffalo tell us the town hasn't been so excited since Jimmy Slattery was fighting for the title. Nice goin', Buffalo! What's next—the Olympics?"

Two weeks later, the seemingly impossible was accomplished when the boys lowered their own national record to an amazing 1:13.8/10, bringing new glory to themselves, their team, their coach and their school. It should not be forgotten that Roy Stuhlmiller, a Senior, was the man behind the relay. His efforts were tireless as he viewed the relay's positions, pushing each man to greater heights and final victory.

Not only the upper classmen but also the freshmen broke records this year. The freshman trio of Neil Mahoney, Dick Schmitt, and James Barry established a new Frosh pool record for the 120 yd. medley relay by splashing the distance in 1:22:1/10 or 4/10 seconds under the previous record.

In the All-High meet, Ken Mermen established an unheard of record—that of taking first place in every event and second place in every event except the backstroke. The fighting spirit of John McMahon will not be forgotten by his teammates. Not once during the 100 yd. backstroke did John lose heart, but fought to the end, only to be touched out by inches of a second place.

Kensington is indeed sorry to lose its cup-taking Seniors, who will go on to still greater heights, reflecting the superb training of Coach Warren. It's hard to see boys like Hines, Gsell, Stuhlmiller, Weisansal, Golden and Baldwin leave. Ever since "Charley" made All-High as a Freshman he has brought honor and glory to Ken. His leaving will be felt by the entire school.

This outstanding team in Syracuse Cup history is the result of the conscientious effort and untiring patience of the coach of coaches—Jack Warren. All credit to him!

CROSS COUNTRY

When the Cross Country season opened early in September, our hopes were high, even though we lost Robert Zemke and James Ruhland from the '46 squad. As the season progressed, Robert Wypiur was forced to drop out, greatly decreasing our chances. But we didn't give up. Under the leadership of last year's able captain, Vincent DiLallo, our team practiced daily until the first meet, at which the squad showed the fruits of its labor by beating East and Bennett with a perfect score. Vince placed first, followed by veterans of last year's squad, Bob Scamurra, Ted Zielinski, Jim Reynard and a promising Frosh, Lee Haurik. After another week of practice we ran against Tech, South Park, East, and Bennett at Delaware Park. Our Green and Gold Harriers finished in first place with 34 points.

The next race was the crucial All-High meet. Our boys trained hard, but unfortunately one of our top runners, Bob Simmons, became ill. The following runners placed in the All-High meet: Vince DiLallo—5, Bob Scamurra—10, Ted Zielinski—14, Don Batz—21, and John Visone—24. Others who ran were Jim Reynard, Lee Haurik, Fran Bieber, Art Mamott and Bob Simmons. As the final score was tabulated, we found ourselves in second place with a total of 74 points, following South Park with 69 points. Congratulations to Mr. Montgomery and our runners and good luck in the coming year!

INTRAMURAL CHAMPIONS

Juniors and Seniors: W. Shanahan, E. Rath, R. Ball, J. McMinn, G. Hoffman. Absent from picture: W. Cehulic, B. Whiting, T. Toomey.

The close of the 1948 basketball season found the Knight cagers deadlocked for 11th place in the Yale Cup Standings. The fighting Ken squad lost close decisions to Tech, East, Burgard, and Emerson, all of whom were forced to come from behind in the closing minutes of their games. Led by All-High Dick Ball who amassed a total of 202 points to take the scoring championship, we won our games over Grover Cleveland, South Park and our arch-rival Bennett. The spirit of the entire squad was "up" for the final game and the Knights fought to victory over the highly rated Tiger quintet.

In his first year as mentor in high school competition, Coach "Swede" Nilson built in the team high qualities of character and sportsmanship which the boys will retain throughout their lives. Under his genial guidance nine boys including Bob Wolf, Gene Swartzenberg, Art Mamott and Captain Dick Ball, gained the coveted "K". Returning next year are such outstanding lettermen as Bradley Kemp, Jack McMinn, "Boozy" Perosa, Chuck Weston, and Jack Thompson. With these boys and all but two of the present squad, Mr. Nilson expects to have a fine team back to carry the colors next season.

TENNIS

Shortly after the opening of school last autumn, forty enthusiastic tennis hopefuls, of varied skills, responded to the call of the annual tennis tournament. From this ambitious group, Howard Hock was acclaimed school champion with Don Miller and Chester Owczarzak receiving runner-up awards. In addition to determining the winners, this tournament helped Mr. Millard select the talent for his 1948 color-bearers.

Kensington began its title quest this season with three players returning from last year's fifth place aggregation. Captain Howie Hock, our only experienced singles player, held down the first singles position while second and third singles were manned by doubles veteran, Don Miller, and rookey Chet Owczarzak. The third member of last season's team, Jack McMinn, again saw action in the doubles, along with Frank Vogle, Jerome Olechowski, Dick Owczarzak, Ronald Blaszkiewicz and Frank Pegrum. Coach Millard selected Paul Peterson to fill the vacant managerial post. Squadmen Roger Laufer, Jim Decker, Eugene Domalski, and Edward Zobrest round out this Green Knight Tennis Team.

BASEBALL

We will again field a fine Baseball team and we have our fingers crossed, hoping the good weather will hold out until the schedule is played.

Returning veterans include catchers Dixie Lash, Carl Wyles; first baseman Leo Pacanowski; second baseman Jack Thompson; shortstop Bob Wolf; leftfielder Bob Wilde.

The pitching staff includes Jim Shaver, Dick Geiger, Don Hilburger, Larry Hartrich, Ed Rath, and Charlie Weston. We are going to miss Babe Birrer and Bill Shaver but Coach Bergstrom thinks these boys will fit the bill.

The third base job will be a toss up between Attilio Perosa and Don Klein while George Jasnau, Glenn Nixon, Dan Snyder, Eric Hedges, Dick Hughes, and Gerry Theisen will be fighting for the other two outfield positions.

Track Flash: Ken Knights capture eighth consecutive track title! The score at the All High meet was: Ken—41⅔; Bennett—the nearest rival—27. This victory clinches the Williams Cup for Kensington. Congratulations to Coach Montgomery and his boys!

Tennis Flash: Our First Doubles Team of Jack McMinn and "Freshman" Frank Vogel wins All High honors!

TRACK

Coach Lou Montgomery's Track Team opened this season with a large squad highlighted by returning lettermen Vince DiLallo, Norm Lindner, Jim (Spike) Reynard, Nelson Birtsch, Alan Clark, Vince Mascia, Fred Urso, and Art Mamott. The team, captained by Vince DiLallo and Art Mamott and managed by "Chuck" Schwender and Bob Biers, is striving for its eighth consecutive Scalp and Blade Championship.

On April 23, the Knights journeyed to Amherst for a practice meet and emerged victors by a tremendous score. Interscholastic competition had not begun as the yearbook went to press, but we all wish the team a very successful season.

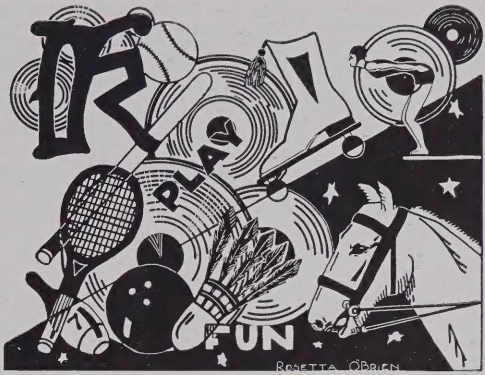
GOLD K AWARD



The Gold K! This tiny pin symbolizes four years of diligent work in extra-curricular sports activities. A total of 500 points had to be accumulated through active participation in volleyball, basketball, baseball, swimming, tennis, horse-back riding, hiking, badminton, and tumbling.

To amass these credits, the girls must have earned 150 points both in their freshman and sophomore years, receiving a gold 4″ and 6″ letter K respectively. The Juniors needed 100 points to earn a 7″ green and gold felt K. An accumulation of 100 points in their senior year warrants their achievement of the final goal, the Gold K.

We owe thanks to our capable physical education instructors from our freshman through our senior years; Mrs. Aydelotte, Miss Seymour, Miss Strasser, Miss Cole, Miss Witczak, Miss Messore and Miss Gallagher.

GIRLS' VOLLEYBALL

The 1947-1948 Volleyball season proved to be both entertaining and healthful to all girls who participated. It was a favorable year for the Seniors who were victorious in the finals; nevertheless, the hard fighting Juniors, the hustling Sophomores and the eager Freshmen will agree it was a fight to the finish for the winning honors. For the girls who have taken part in previous years, it was an opportunity to improve their skill. For the newcomers, it was a chance to learn the fundamentals of an exciting game. Under the supervision of Miss Witczak and Miss Gallagher the upper-classmen developed new techniques, while the Freshmen learned the game from Miss Messore.

The girls listed as outstanding players were: Seniors: Dorothy Stanek, Norma Piske, and Katherine Evers; Juniors: Rosetta O'Brien, Shirley Christen, and Betty Parkhurst; Sophomores: Joan Schau, Marilyn Ball, and Diane Cawley; Freshmen: Madonna Shea, Mary Lou Urso, and Janet Fogelsonger.

GIRLS' SOFTBALL

The 1948 softball season started with much enthusiasm and spirit. Every Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday after school the girls met with Miss Messore and Miss Gallagher to better their skill in batting, fielding, and catching. Although the season has just begun, many of the girls are showing much interest and talent for this sport. The softball teams had not been chosen at the time that the Compass went to press, but many girls have become outstanding at the practices. Some of these are: Seniors—Jean Barrett, Dorothy Stanek, and Audrey Krull; Juniors—Dorothea Panke, Diane Lavetti, and Betty Parkhurst; Sophomores—Jane Landseadel, Irene Severino, and Grace Furbo; Freshmen—Jeri Keating and Carol Kuhn.

By observing the Senior Class, it appears to all critics that this group will be the 1948 softball champs.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

With Miss Gallagher as their guide, the Freshman girls learned the art of making baskets, how to dribble, pass, and pivot during the eight weeks. The practice sessions were every Tuesday and Wednesday after school. After the Freshmen developed their skill through their many devoted hours to individual and team practices, the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior veterans invaded the gym to improve their skill.

Under the capable supervision of Miss Messore and Miss Witczak the experienced veterans gained more knowledge of the "fast breaking game" to provide the keen competition for the final playoffs. On April 9, the finals in basketball were held. As expected, the game between the Juniors and Seniors was a close contest from beginning to end. When the game was over, the Seniors had defeated the Juniors.

The following girls warrant recognition for their splendid playing throughout the season. They are: Seniors—Dorothy Stanek, Joan Hezel, and Jean Barrett; Juniors—Rosetta O'Brien, Dorothea Panke, and Diane Lavetti; Sophomores—Audrey Golnick, Audrey Wood, and Joan Schau; Freshmen—Pat O'Rourke, Jeri Keating, and Dolores Furbo.

BOWLING

One of the most popular winter sports in which the girls participated was bowling. With the cooperation of two local bowling alleys, it was arranged to offer bowling to a capacity group. Every Tuesday over 100 girls, dreaming of strikes and spares, swarmed to the Schiller Park Alleys, and each Wednesday, an even greater number of bowlers invaded the Kensington Alleys, also hoping for high scores. At first gutter balls were numerous, but they appeared less frequently as the girls acquired skill under the capable direction of Miss Witczak and Miss Messore.

Lois Taylor achieved the highest score of the season—161, while bowling at the Kensington Alleys. Other high scorers at these alleys were: Evelyn Endres, 144; June Will, 143; Jane Stabell, 138; Elaine Cantwell, 129. The five highest games at the Schiller Alleys were bowled by the following; Joan Schneider, 143; Nancy Hoefler, 137; Marion Vogel, 132; Natalie Ferringer, 127; Arlene Firlik, 127.

The bowling program not only provided enjoyment and recreation for the girls, but also brought them one step closer to the Gold K award.

GIRLS' SPORTS

BADMINTON

One of the activities which proved especially successful, was a course of instruction in badminton for the freshman and sophomore girls, in which the joy of playing rather than competition received the major emphasis. More than eighty girls responded for this spring activity, with a racquet, a birdie, and a great deal of energy and enthusiasm. Under the instruction of Miss Gallagher, the girls acquired the fundamentals of the game and the knowledge of the rules. Five instruction periods were held on Thursdays after school followed by five game periods. The girls are to be congratulated on their fine spirit of harmony and cooperation. Karlyn Kaufhold and Doreen Marschke showed outstanding ability in the freshman group. The sophomore stars were Lois Kolb and Shirley Konerth.

TENNIS

Every Tuesday and Wednesday after school, 184 girls invaded the gym to improve their skill in Tennis. At their first meeting, the girls listened to Mr. Millard's interesting lecture on the basic techniques of tennis. At the second meeting, Miss Messore lectured on the proper method of scoring, tennis etiquette and tennis vocabulary. After the two lectures the girls began to put into practice all of the techniques they had been taught. At first, more balls were missed than were hit; but with additional practice many of the girls became very proficient. At the close of the practice periods, the girls were hoping that the weather would permit them to play tennis out of doors.

EQUESTRI-KENS

The Equestri-Kens is one of the most active and popular organizations at Kensington. When the weather permits, the riders meet twice a week to take a jaunt through Delaware Park on their favorite horses of which the most popular are Dynamite, Scarlet O'Hara, Finnegan, and Rose. The Riding Club is not without social meetings. Our first was the Christmas party at which time it has become a tradition for the girls to donate the price of one ride to the school fund which is used to bring happiness to someone at Christmas time. Before June examinations, our last meeting takes place. We have a breakfast ride which ends the year with a sad farewell to our older members and an anticipating thought of the next year.

The officers elected this year were:

President—JUANITA J. DUCA
Vice-Pres.—JEAN SMITH
Secretary—CAROL LOSSON
Treasurer—SHIRLEY NAEDALE

The members of the Riding Club would like to express their appreciation to Mr. Monan and the members of the faculty who have encouraged us. We also extend unlimited gratitude to Mrs. Fink, our faculty advisor, who so generously gave us her time, patience, and experience.

These girls enjoy good exercise along with a good time while riding in Delaware Park.

GIRLS' SWIMMING

This year, 95 girls came out for team competition. Out of these, six teams were organized and captained by Dorothy Stanek, Jean Barrett, Betty Hennig, Ruth Bayard, Doreen Sullivan and Barbara Wilde. The teams competed against each other in three meets and Barbara Wilde's team came up victorious.

From these six teams, 26 of the best swimmers were chosen for two major teams to compete with one another. The captain for the Green Team was Jean Barrett and for the Gold Team, Dorothy Stanek. The final result was: Green Team—48; Gold Team—46.

The two major teams were composed of the following girls: Green Team—J. Barrett, B. Hennig, M. Dougherty, R. Blersch, A. Lawrie, K. Smithmeyer, R. Bayard, J. Fahning, J. Page, K. Kaufold, R. FLORIDA FANTASIE

On the 18th and 19th of May, 175 girls, in costumes they themselves made, participated in this year's water show. The script was written by Miss Mack and Jane Mullen. A very pretty mural at the shallow end of the pool, depicting one of Florida's famous orange groves, was painted by Grace Furbo and Beverly Evans.

The two beautiful floating formations were presented by such outstanding Freshmen as Mary Urso, Madonna Shea, Anita Lawrie and Dolores LaRosa. One of the acts was put on by a group of Senior and Junior girls who called themselves the Silver Springs Octet. This intricate number was ably executed by Audrey Krull, Jeanne Huck, Carol Steve, Phyllis Belcher, Nancy Sedler, Joan Neely, Pat Lund, and Ruth Bayard.

Two of the acts vied for first place as the loveliest of all the formations. The first of these was a balloon number worked out with big red balloons and the other was done with candles that made us think of the reflection of stars in a moonlit lake. In these two numbers we witnessed such expert swimmers as Betty Hennig, Diane Yaw, Barbara Wilde, Mary Ann Spangenberg and Doreen Sullivan.

The music was provided by four Sophomore songsters—Sue Scanlon, Rosalee Barone, Natalie Ciesielski, and Lorraine Cebulski, accompanied by Sylvia Curtis. The able director and producer of this wonderful water show was Miss Marie Felser.

ADVERTISING

Advertising is the medium by which the business of the world is carried out successfully. At Kensington, advertising is largely the means which has enabled us to produce our superior publication from year to year. This section is a testimonial to the support given to our school not only by the students themselves, but by the citizens of our community. We are truly grateful for their whole-hearted support in the production of this edition of The Compass.

CLASS HISTORY

Class Historians: Bessie Chambos, Chester Owczarzak, Jacqueline Moore and Donald Goodwin.

Absent from picture: Jane Mullen and Esther Mierzwa.

January-February, 1947: After mid-year, an increase in speed was noticed in the Junior Girls' gym classes. Could it have been practice for Leap Year?

March: Even we, as sophisticated Juniors, were impressed by the ability of debaters Joanne Hanna and Art Nehrbass as they sent Hutch and Lafayette to crushing defeat.

April: With such mermen as Bob Gsell, John Golden, and Roy Stuhlmiller, how could we help but win that Syracuse Cup? Weren't we all proud when the season ended and "Churnin' Charley" Baldwin held the title for three city records?

After much deliberation and last minute campaigning, we elected Dick Gassman, President; Nancy Beenau, Vice-President; Bob Donohue, Treasurer; Carol Steve, Secretary. Sue Jones and Bob Gsell were appointed Marshals.

May: The musical organizations presented a beautiful Spring Concert in which numerous Juniors participated. Jazz addicts as well as the lovers of Bach and Beethoven attended, for the proceeds were used to finance a War Memorial honoring Kensington's students who died in World War II.

For us, the highlight of the year was Junior Day. We'll always remember Jackie Moore as the doting aunt and Milton Ellis as her nephew in Wisdom Teeth. The day was made complete when we retired to the gym where we danced to the dreamy music of Buddy Mack's band. Everyone had a good time, including the lucky vocalist who danced with Al Kielich.

June: Far too soon Regents Week was upon us. At its close, we learned that Joanne Hanna had received her third Attainment Medal. With unconcealed relief, the rest of us found that our diligent study had paid off.

And so, as do all good things, our Junior year ended, leaving many fond memories in the minds of all.

September, 1947: Exuberant as only Kensingtonians can be, once more we mounted the steps of our favorite school, this time as Seniors.

Although our spirits were saddened by the untimely death of our outstanding principal, Mr. Thomas J. McDonnell, we were very fortunate to have as his successor, Mr. Charles J. Monan. We all gave Mr. Monan our fullest cooperation and within the first few weeks we realized our new executive was really one of us.

October-November: "Let's go, we can do it" was officially adopted as the school's by-word during the excitement of the football season. Spurred on by our football captain, Bob Donohue, (who also led in sales of tickets) and our football-spirited Mr. Monan, the students and faculty "did it" by turning out en masse, breaking every attendance record at All High Stadium. Our greatly honored, flower-deluged football team "did it" by remaining undefeated. Enthusiasm reached its highest peak when we handed McKinley its first defeat in five years. Our Thanksgiving victory over Lafayette was the final touch which brought us the coveted Harvard Cup. Seniors who helped keep the "pigskin" rolling toward our goal were Bob Donohue, John Beckley, Leo Pacanowski, and Bob Wilde.

Cross country runners, Vince DiLallo, Jim Reynard, and Fran Bieber were among those honored during assembly for their many triumphs.

December: Although we, as Seniors, enjoyed the annual Christmas Pageant, there was a slight undertone of disappointment when the angels failed to "Fall on schedule."

January-February, 1948: With "Let's go, we can do it" fresh in our minds, we left '47 behind and tackled our books with the vigor of a football player. This unusual display of scholarship lasted only until that tortuous last week of January. After surviving mid-terms, studyhalls returned to normalcy.

March: Smartly outfitted in their handsome green uniforms, the band marched proudly down the aisle to open the St. Patrick's Day

"Dixie" Lash's perfumed letter sweater to Chris Frauenhaufer.

Bob Donohue's "iron" legs to Chuck Weston.

The Moore sisters "new look" to Adeline and Anna Perino.

Upon due consultation with our friend "Schmoe", we dolefully leave:

"Spike" Reynard's vocal impersonations to the "late" "Ukie" Peters.

Gloria Wietig's lipstick brush to Shirley Harrison.

Bernell Dowse's financial "disability" to Jack McMinn.

Don Nichol's eye for color to Clarence Mauer.

Beverly Jones and Audrey Krull's alphabetizing experience to Joan Dittman and Pearl Barger.

Bruce Whiting's chemistry paper to the '49 Einsteins.

John Beckley's innocent attraction to 15 yard penalties to Roy Koch.

Joan Mann's "Dramatic tears" to Shirley Goff.

Roy Stuhlmiller's inspiring "Keep Smiling" reminder to the faculty.

Our Trio of National Record Breakers' excess scholastic units to Tom Schaeffer to speed up their college reunion.

Memories of Firedrills from the "Breeser of '48" to his successor June Wind.

"Mouse" Feldman's secretly authored book, "Gossip Before It Happens" to Marge Creola.

Chuck Baldwin's subscription to "Physical Culture" to Dick Keeney.

And now on this second day of June, 1948, our arms overflowing with cups and broken records, we, having faithlessly consulted our advisor, Dr. I. M. Learned and in the presence of "Simple Simon," our sole witness, do solemnly sign, seal and confirm this our last will and testament.

of beautiful music, including "God Bless America" and "Come Ye Thankful People Come!"

Presented for the tenth year, the Christmas Pageant again impressed everyone with its magnificence and splendor.

Begora, and 'twas a great day for the Irish at Ken when our local colleens danced the Irish jig. This assembly was expecially gay, since all Ken wore a bit of green and participated in the program by singing familiar Irish tunes.

Easter was celebrated in all its glory with the beautiful music of the orchestra and the A Cappella Choir echoing through the school. Especially impressive was the orchestra's rendition of Tschaikowsky's "March Slav," and the A Cappella Choir's interpretation of "The Lord's Prayer."

During the swimming season, we enjoyed many assemblies as a result of the speed of our champion swimming team. At the presentation of the Syracuse Cup, we were entertained by Al Watts and Harold Shad. Ted Webster, coach of swimming at Syracuse University and Bob Sauerwein, captain of the Syracuse team, also popular with the seniors in particular, who have visited the guidance office in large numbers to consult the catalogs and discuss with the counsellors their plans for the future.

By this time, it was becoming increasingly evident that the guidance program had become too popular and valuable to be carried on in the small conference room. Mr. Monan was quick to see the need. With his usual dispatch and efficiency, he arranged for the alteration of Room 165 into a suite of offices so that the counsellors might more adequately meet the needs of the pupils. Within three weeks Room 165 was transformed into a large waiting room and three private offices where pupils have enjoyed confidential interviews in a pleasant, fresh environment.

This first year of organized guidance has been an extremely busy one. Its success has been due in no small measure to the cooperation of Mr. Monan, the faculty, and the students themselves. It is the sincere desire of all concerned to establish at Kensington a program of guidance that will prove a model of service and achievement.

from the 15, and Chris Frauenhofer stole 15 yards to end the scoring.

As the next game approached, there wasn't much speculation as to the outcome; but to the surprise of everyone, the East eleven outfought and outplayed us for the first three quarters. In the final period our boys rallied and went on to a glorious, but ever-so-close 14-13 victory.

Next we met the champion "McKinley Macks", undefeated for the last five years, having 26 consecutive victories to their credit. We downed them 14-0, with Dickie Ball and Gene Swartzenburg making long runs for the scores. We can thank our hard-charging line for this great victory.

During the season, the capability of Captain Bob Donahue and manager John Graham helped carry the team through many glorious battles. The Bennett jinx held no terror for our team, for in the last game of the regular season, our boys swamped the Tigers 13-0. Gene Swartzenburg scored both tallies on beautiful end runs and received fine blocking from John Beckley, Don Frauenhofer, and Ray Paprocki.

We battled Lafayette on Thanksgiving Day for the city championship on an ice and snow-bound field. A smooth pass defense was set up that halted the dreaded Lafayette air attack. The action was at a standstill until late in the second quarter when Elmer Jahn exploded 70 yards through the center of the line. Bob Wolf, our ever-ready end, scored soon after, when he stole the ball from Lafayette's quarterback and raced 35 yards. Big Elmer finished the scoring and ended his high-school career with two more tallies in the final period, enabling us to capture our first Harvard Cup.

FOOTBALL BANQUET

Bob Feeney of the News. Also present were sports announcers Sherm Wright, Charlie Bailey, and Bud Hulick, all of WEBR; and Eugene Korzelius of WBNY. Other guests were: Earl Browne, coach at Auburn, Alabama; James Peele, coach at U. of B.; Thomas Timlin, American Football Conference; Edward Hirsch and Harold Lahar, Buffalo Bills; Anthony Nocero, East Buffalo News Tribune; and Joseph Brown, Buffalo Baseball Club.

Captain William Shanahan was chairman of the committee of arrangements and Ralph Hubbell of WEBR was toastmaster. As Mr. Hubbell said on his broadcast the next night: "You will look a long time before you find such loyalty as that exemplified by the Kensington business men. Certainly that community spirit will instill in the boys a deeper feeling for their school and their community."

for programs in our homerooms. Sandra Dypkins, Rosalie De Perro, Rosemary Blersch, Jeanette Flick, and Jacqueline Kraft worked on the Projection Staff.

It certainly was a busy year. We are grateful to Miss Heacock who always helped us wiggle out of every "jam". We have tried hard to uphold Kensington's noble traditions. As the years go on I hope we will always be loyal daughters of our Alma Mater, and may all the memories be as happy as mine are of this first year.

AMONG THE ATHLETES

1. Cross country runner Bob Scamurra waits for the gun.
2. Mr. H. Colgrove presents a swimming cup to Chuck Baldwin, while Coach Warren, Jimmy Hines, Mr. Monan, Bob Gsell, and Tom Shaeffer hold their individual trophies.
3. What weather for a football game! R. Paprocki, J. Cook, G. Hoffman, and J. Bradley shiver at All High Stadium.
4. Coach Montgomery gets ready to time his cross country runners T. Zielinski, R. Scamurra, J. Reynard, L. Haurik, and V. DiLallo.
5. Art Mamott watches tensely while Bob Wolf shoots a basket.
6. Mr. Posmantur shows Mr. Monan one of the sweaters which he presented to members of the swimming team. B. Murry, J. Mahoney, A. Watts, J. McMahon, Mr. Warren, and H. Mueller look on.
7. Jimmy Reynard, another cross country man ready to run.
8. Majorettes Alice Minor, Marguerite Parise, and Korleen Wheelock, forget precision as they are caught unaware.
9. Cheerleaders Bob Biers, Cliff Otis, Sandy Milatello, Mert Wittholz and mascot G. Koontz smiling broadly after a victory assembly.

1. Crooner Dick Wilcox (Frank Sinatra has nothing on him.)
2. Cheerleaders D. Keeney, C. Otis, R. Wycoff, S. Milatello, R. Biers, and M. Wittholz lead Ken's marching band.
3. Mr. Monan is deluged with congratulations upon his appointment as principal.
4. Ted Zielinski ready to run.
5. Cliff Waugh looks for his lost screw at the Syracuse Cup Presentation. Happy hunting, Cliff.
6. Bob Donohue presents Coach Bill Bergstrom with a clock from the football team.
7. Barbara Lawrie and Catherine Schoenfeld reach unprecedented heights while trimming our Christmas Tree.
8. Gary Hoffman, end on our Harvard Cup Champion Football Team.
9. Gloria Wietig shows us how it should be done.

visor with the American Optical Company. Mr. Ralph D. Myrick, instructor in Salesmanship at the University of Buffalo, discussed business opportunities. A variety of occupations were explained by Miss Ruth M. Druar, Employment Counselor with the New York State Employment Service.

These speakers gave the students a valuable survey of many careers, outlining personality requirements, the type of training needed, working conditions, possibilities for advancement and other important aspects.

CLASS HISTORY

Program. An added attraction was audience participation in the singing of familiar Irish melodies.

Joanne Hanna won the admiration and envy of us all when she placed first in the Americanism Essay Contest and spent Easter vacation in sunny Washington while we shivered in Buffalo.

April: This month, puzzled Seniors were given an opportunity to explore many different vocations. Representatives of various fields spoke concerning numerous occupations; among them nursing, medicine, industry, and salesmanship.

May: When the news of the aqua-maids' presentation of "A Trip to Florida" reached the boys' ears, "Why can't we see it too?" was frequently heard. Among those displaying remarkable talent were Beverly Evans, Jean Barrett, Ruth Bayard, and Gloria Schmidt.

Participation in girls' sports was indicated by the awarding of 32 Gold K's to Senior Girls.

Our hilarious Variety Show, "Mrs. Murphy's Boarding House," with an all star cast, offered the unusual attraction of "Bing, Bob Donohue, Crosby" and the "Andrew Sisters," (Johnny Graham, Roy Stuhlmiller, and Vince DiLallo).

At the unveiling of the beautiful War Memorial, everyone had a solemn prayer in his heart for the boys who had given their lives to preserve our democracy.

June: Despite all accusations hurled against us, we proved our good judgment by choosing as Senior Officers Art Nehrbass, President; Carol Steve, Vice-President; Bernell Dowse, Treasurer; Joan Mann, Secretary; Gloria Wietig, and Johnny Stenger, Class Marshals.

With the realization that the things we have said and done will remain and become part of the history of our Alma Mater, we regretfully bring to a close this diary of our four glorious years at Kensington.

MRS. MURPHY'S BOARDING HOUSE

Lorraine Jakubowska as Cornelia Lark sings a sentimental ballad.

This was one of the most successful musical comedies ever presented at Kensington. The ticket sale broke all records with an estimated 4,500 persons attending. A cast of 78 talented students gave a varied program of songs, dances and specialty acts—including xylophone and accordion numbers, a military precision drill, tumbling and tableaux. Orchestral numbers and accompaniments were played by 24 members of the Kensington orchestra, directed by Mr. William Pinkow. A committee of 41 teachers assisted with the script, costumes, make-up, publicity, scenery, properties and ticket sale.

Clifford Otis scored a great success as the lonely little petunia.

Two of the effective tableaux presented by Costrino, Gsell, Schaeffer, Hines, Guerra, Keeney, Weisansal, Darrow, and Auguglíaro.

BINDING

"COORDINATION" . . . a word that can mean a lot to you, even more than it does to us. It embodies a principle upon which our success depends. It means the proper economy of money, materials, and time, but always bearing in mind the kind of a yearbook you wish to have produced and of which you will be proud. BJH learned to appreciate that principle a long time ago. It is for this reason that we have consistently advocated the coordination of all factors of yearbook production. We are indeed glad to have been selected to produce this year's book.
